Bumper Crops . . .

Except where hail cut a path over the week-end causing damage estimated at $6,000,000, grain crops promising bumper yields are the exception rather than the rule on the prairies this year. In the area around Lethbridge, where irrigation has been used to supplement natural moisture, indications are the yield will be high. Here, W. R. Hughes and John Hocken are seen examining a heavy stand of wheat on the former's farm, nine miles north of Lethbridge. This field has grown to a height of four feet and promises to yield 50 bushels an acre.—(CP Photo)

Spaak Of Belgium Chosen Europe Assembly President

STRASBOURG (CP) — Paul-Henri Spaak, Belgian Socialist leader, was unanimously elected today as the first president of the European consultative assembly.

The chunky little Belgian resigned Wednesday as Belgium's acting premier and foreign minister so he could take over the top job in the newly-created Council of Europe.

Winston Churchill of Britain nominated Spaak for the assembly presidency. The 101 delegates from a dozen countries quickly endorsed the selection without opposition.

Delegates in private negotiations Wednesday gave their support to Spaak, one of Europe's outstanding political figures and first president of the United Nations' General Assembly.

Spaak had been serving as acting premier since Belgian elections more than six weeks ago in which his Socialist party lost ground. He was succeeded as Belgian premier by Gaston Eyskens, a Christian Socialist.

Churchill and several other representatives tabled a motion in the assembly today to obtain discussion on the rights of man.

The motion called only for a debate on the protection of human rights without indicating any specific measures. It was strongly backed by the European movement which claims more than half the assembly representatives as its members.

Four vice-presidents elected were:

Britain's Lord Layton, chairman of the boards of directors of corporations owning the London News Chronicle and the London Star; Francois de Menthon of France; Stefano Jacini of Italy, and Ole Bjoern Kraft of Denmark.

Polish Child Labor Charge Mystifies Canadian Officer

LONDON (CP)—Canadian immigration authorities in London today were mystified by a Polish charge Wednesday that the International Refugee Organization is helping Canada obtain 150 Polish children "as cheap labor."

A Polish foreign ministry spokesman said the I.R.O. was preparing to ship the children to Canada to prevent their return to their homeland and families.

Gen. Wiktor Grosz said the children had left Italy this month for the British zone of Germany. Poland's request to Italy that the children be repatriated to Poland had been ignored, he said.

Gen. Grosz condemned the I.R.O. for "flagrant breach of its repatriation statutes" and added that "eastern European countries were right in declaring the I.R.O. nothing but a 'recruiting centre for cheap labor . . ."

The Polish government said the children now are camped at Hamburg, Germany, awaiting passage to Canada.

One Canadian official today said the children are either known orphans or youngsters whose parents have not been able to be traced in the wartime and postwar refugee tides.

"Any who have parents living are not accepted," the official said.

He added that Poland so far has made no protest to the Canadian government about any group of refugees now seeking admission to Canada.

Fourth Tax Charge

MONTREAL (CP)—Russel R. Smith of suburban Verdun appeared in court for the fourth time here Wednesday on charges of refusing to file income tax returns. Smith, formerly of Saskatoon, was fined $250 on each of the three previous occasions for failing to file income tax. He claimed the law under which the tax is collected is unconstitutional.

Govt. May Back Down On Price Cuts Fought By Merchants

LONDON (UP)—The Labor government was reported ready today to back down on its attempt to force small shopkeepers to cut utility goods prices because of the widespread rebellion against the scheme.

The shopkeepers in a meeting Tuesday voted not to reduce their prices by 5 per cent on Sept. 12, as ordered.

Board of Trade officials were understood to be preparing an alternative plan which would cut prices 5 per cent all along the line beginning with the manufacturer. In such a plan retailers' profit would not be slashed.

Board of Trade president, Harold Wilson, who has been vacationing on the continent, was expected back in London tonight to study the new plan and other suggestions.

U.S. Arms Aid Greek Offensive

KASTORIA, Greece (UP)—Greek government troops have launched a two-pronged summer offensive against 12,000 guerrillas along the Yugoslav and Albanian borders, it was announced today.

The government forces are supported by 50 newly supplied American navy dive-bombers, a number of new American army recoilless 75 millimeter artillery pieces and American-made tanks.

The southern arm of the offensive sent three Greek army divisions against an estimated 5,000 guerrillas entrenched in the Grammos Mountains along the Albanian border southwest of Kastoria.

WOULD CUT HIGHWAY

The northern arm, launched with a crack mountain division, was driving north from Kastoria along the Albanian border in the Vitsi area. Its aim was to cut the highway to Albania supplying another 7,000 guerrillas and trap them against the closed Yugoslav border.

Reliable reports said Albanian regular army troops were concentrating on the Albanian-Greek frontier as a "psychological booster" for the guerrilla forces.

(An official Albanian report broadcast by Radio Tirana Wednesday charged that Greek troops had invaded Albania along a 30-mile front but had been repulsed.)

Heavy fighting was reported in the Grammos Mountains and other heavy fighting was expected in the Vitsi area.

CAPTURE PEAK

A Greek general staff communique said troops in the Vitsi area had captured Peak 1685, a strategic height southwest of Florina. Unofficial reports said several other important peaks had fallen to mountain troops north of Kastoria.

Fighting was increasing in the Vitsi area, the communique said. It reported 23 Greek army troops killed and 15 wounded in the capture of Peak 1685. Twenty-two guerrillas were captured.

The Vitsi salient, where the main battle was expected to be fought, is an area of 300 square miles hinging on Lake Prespa. The salient is bounded on the north by Yugoslavia, on the west by Albania and to the south and east by a line running near Kastoria and Florina.

Weather Forecast

Cloudy with showers today; cloudy tonight and Friday with occasional sunny intervals Friday afternoon; light winds, little change in temperature. Low tonight, 52; high Friday, 62.

Tremors Cause New Panic In Quake Ravaged City

QUITO (AP)—Strong earth shocks were reported Wednesday night in already ravaged Ambato, centre of the area struck by a series of disastrous earthquakes which began last week.

A radio broadcast from Ambato said the remaining inhabitants of the town were panic-stricken as a few more houses, weakened by previous tremors, collapsed. The broadcast did not say whether there were any new casualties.

Relief forces, meanwhile, pushed additional supplies into the stricken area, where the government estimates 6,000 persons were killed last week.

(Mercy planes of the U.S. air force and the Latin American states flew in doctors, food, blankets, tents and DDT today for the helpless and homeless people of central Ecuador.

(Eleven of the U.S. air force Caribbean command were the vanguard of 20 that will fly 45 tons of tenting, 2,000 blankets, 500 pounds of DDT powder and other supplies into the disaster area from their base at Balboa in the Canal Zone.)

Eyskens Heads Belgium's New Coalition Government

BRUSSELS, Belgium (UP) — Belgium's new Coalition cabinet of eight Liberals and nine Catholics was sworn in by Prince Regent Charles of Belgium today.

The new cabinet was scheduled to hold its first meeting tomorrow and present its program to Parliament Tuesday for a vote of confidence.

Headed by Premier Gaston Eyskens of the Social Christian (Catholic) Party, the new cabinet includes former Premier Paul van Zeeland, Catholic, replacing Paul-Henri Spaak, Socialist, as Foreign Minister.

The other Catholic members held portfolios of Interior, Economic Affairs, Colonies, Communications, Agriculture, Labor and Minister of State.

Liberal members held office as ministers of Justice, Public Education, Finance, Reconstruction, Public Works, Public Health, Vice Premier and National Defense and State.

The Liberal Party executive committee decided at a meeting Wednesday to join the Social Christians in the coalition. The vote was 70 to 51.

Both the Socialists and Liberals opposed the return of King Leopold to the throne—the platform on which the Social Christians won the Belgian elections but not enough seats to give them a majority in parliament.

The new government presumably will handle the country's immediate economic and foreign affairs problem, leaving the Royalty question to be hammered out later by all parties.

Czech Catholics To Defy Government, Install Two Bishops

PRAGUE (UP)—The Catholic Church has decided to defy the Communist Czechoslovak government by proceeding with the installation of two new bishops next Sunday, a well-informed source said today.

The bishops will be consecrated without the "placet" (approval of the government, but will have full spiritual authority, the source said.

He said the new bishops were appointed a few weeks ago by the Holy See.

They are the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Ambrose Lazik and the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Robert Pobozny.

The bishops will be the first consecrated in Czechoslovakia since the Communist government came to power in February, 1948. Both the new bishops signed the last anti-government pastoral letter issued by the Czechoslovak primate, Archbishop Josef Beran, June 26. Their elevation to the hierarchy will increase it to two archbishops and 12 bishops.

Truman Arms-Aid Program Not To Be Opposed By Taft

WASHINGTON (AP)—Friends of President Truman's $1,450,000,000 arms-aid plan were cheered today by word that Senator Robert Taft (Rep., Ohio) won't lead a fight against it, and that strong support from the military chiefs is assured.

Taft, chairman of the Republican policy committee, told a reporter he probably will vote against the plan of arming friendly countries. But he added he will not spearhead the opposition as he did against the North Atlantic Treaty. Taft came nowhere near winning his fight on the pact but he gave it plenty of trouble.

The Joint Chiefs of Staff—Gen. Omar N. Bradley of the army, Admiral Louis E. Denfeld of the navy, and Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg of the air force—added words of firm support Wednesday.

The military chiefs disclosed to three committees that the bulk of assistance to Europe would go to rearm once-powerful France.

Gen. Bradley said that a strong French army is the prime concern in the United States plan to build up forces in western Europe. The idea, he said, is immediate assistance to make the western Europe countries strong enough to delay and hamper any aggressor until the United States could get into action.

The $1,160,000,000 earmarked for European members of the North Atlantic Pact will not give Europe the military strength to stop an attack by Russia.

The army chief said it will take five or 10 years—"no one knows how long"—for western Europe to build up her economic and military power to a point where she can do that. But he added that the aid proposed now will strengthen her to the point where there may be no attack.

One group of senators headed by Senator Arthur Vandenburg (Rep., Mich) favor a stop-gap program until the North Atlantic defence committee comes into being and recommends a defence plan for western Europe.

This situation, senators said privately, has thrown the Michigan senator into opposition with his nephew, Gen. Vandenberg.

Attacked By Trio

CALGARY (CP)—John Cassidy of Moose Jaw complained to police Wednesday night he had been assaulted by three young men and robbed of $67 while walking on First Street East early today. He said the trio grabbed him, dragged him into the lane, and beat him up and stole the money from his wallet.

Reuther's Pension, Security Program Endorsed By Union

DETROIT (UP)—Ford Motor Co. workers in Michigan approved a nation-wide strike to enforce the C.I.O. United Auto Workers' fourth-round wage demands by a heavy seven to one majority, official returns showed today.

With only a few thousand votes still to be counted in the state-supervised strike election, 60,585 voted to authorize a walkout and 8,710 against, state labor mediations chief Noel Fox announced.

(It has been indicated that a strike of Ford workers south of the border would result in an almost immediate curtailment of production in the Ford of Canada plants in Windsor.)

The vote was a resounding vote of confidence for U.A.W. president Walter Reuther, who is seeking old age pensions, health and security benefits and a cost of living increase for his 106,000 Ford workers, about 81,000 in Michigan.

The U.A.W. international executive board was expected to give quick approval to a strike if economic demands are not met. However, Reuther's victory statement took a conciliatory tone.

"The U.A.W. is prepared to continue negotiations in a sincere and genuine effort to reach a fair and equitable settlement of issues involved through down-to-earth collective bargaining," he said.

Fox predicted the total vote would top 74,000, with more than 90 per cent of the Michigan Ford workers casting ballots under terms of the state's new "little Taft-Hartley law."

Reuther said the union victory was a "vote for greater security and increased purchasing power for the Ford workers and their families, and for an improved contract and better working conditions in the plants."

Completion of the three-day strike vote was expected to spur negotiators in their attempts to write a new contract.

Clippers Claim Two New Records

LONDON (AP) — Pan American Airways said today its Clippers have excelled the Gander-to-London flying record twice in the last two days. The airline said the Clipper America flew the distance in six hours, 48 minutes. Tuesday, another Clipper made the same flight in six hours, 52 minutes. The Gander-London record of seven hours, 24 minutes had been held since Nov. 17, 1948, by a British Overseas Airways Constellation.

U.S. Steel Industry Opens Case Against Union Demand

By H. D. QUIGG

NEW YORK (UP)—The steel industry will open its case today against its workers' demands for a 30-cent "package" fourth-round wage increase.

A prominent industry spokesman will keynote the management case in the battle between 58 steel companies and the 1,000,000-member United Steelworkers of America (C.I.O.).

The debate was resumed before President Truman's steel fact-finding board after a one-week recess called when the U.S.W. finished its direct case.

The three-man board, appointed by President Truman July 16 to avert a nation-wide strike over the new demands, will submit its findings to the President by Aug. 30. The union, under Mr. Truman's 60-day truce proposal, has advanced its strike deadline to Sept. 14.

The board gave each side eight days to present its case.

The steel industry has emphasized its position that it will not be bound in any way by the board's recommendations for a "fair and equitable settlement." The board's findings have no legal or moral binding power on either side but are expected to have an impact on public opinion during the 15 days which will be available for bargaining between the board's report and the strike deadline.

The union's 30-cent "package" demand, first made public when U.S.W. and C.I.O. president, Philip Murray, opened his case before the board July 28, is broken down as follows: 12½ cents an hour wage increase; 11.23 cents an hour for pensions; 6.27 cents an hour for social insurance.

The union contended that the recent declines in the cost of materials used by the steel industry would more than offset the union demand. It estimated the industry was making a profit at a rate of more than $1,000,000,000 annually, on the basis of earnings for the first half of 1949.

U.S. Defence Secretary Pays First Ottawa Visit

OTTAWA (BUP) — United States Defence Secretary Louis A. Johnson arrived here today for a one-day discussion of mutual problems with the Canadian government.

Johnson was met at the airport by Defence Minister Brooke Claxton, and later talked with the cabinet defence committee headed by Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent.

Details of the questions discussed between Johnson and the defence committee were not disclosed, but Claxton said earlier there would be "an exchange of views on matters of mutual interest."

The defence secretary was accompanied by Maj.-Gen. Robert L. Walsh, U.S. air force, who represents the U.S. section of the permanent joint defence board at the meeting. Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, Canadian chairman of the board, also was present.

One of the subjects likely under discussion today was the recent visit to Europe of the U.S. chiefs of staff where they conferred with the defence staffs of the Atlantic treaty nations.

Defence Secretary In 90-Minute Talk With Cabinet Group

OTTAWA (CP)—Defence Secretary Johnson of the United States conferred with the defence committee of the Canadian cabinet and their top advisers today but a tight layer of outward secrecy engulfed the talk. They met for 90 minutes.

Mr. Johnson will meet the press later today but a source close to him said after the meeting he doubted that there would be any major announcements.

The secretary took into the conference with him U.S. Ambassador Laurence Steinhart and Maj.-Gen. Robert Walsh of the Joint Defence Board. The Canadian contingent included Prime Minister St. Laurent, Trade Minister Howe, Defence Minister Claxton, Deputy Defence Minister C. M. Drury, the Chiefs of Staff, Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, Canadian chairman of the Joint Defence Board, and Sidney Pierce, Industrial Mabilization Chief.

The broad representation and the official statement that they would discuss matters of mutual concern indicated that the conference was fairly general. Arms procurement by Canada from the U.S. forces was considered a likely subject.

With Mr. Johnson was an American member of the Joint Defence Board, Maj.-Gen. Robert Walsh.

Official announcements of the visit have said only that Mr. Johnson and the government will discuss "matters of mutual interest." That covers a lot of territory.

Nationalist Troops Quit Vital Centre

HONGKONG (UP)—Nationalist troops have withdrawn from the strategic headquarters city of Hengyang to avoid Communist encirclement, it was reported here tonight.

These reports, said Gen. Pai Chung-hsi, defender on the central China front, had shifted 50 miles southward to Kiyang and apparently intends to make his stand at the entrance to Kiangsi province.

This would leave the road to Canton wide open. Hengyang is 275 miles northwest of Canton, the Nationalist refugee capital.

Manwhile, four new Nationalist armies reportedly arrived at Kweilin from Formosa to bolster the central front defenders.

Communists who crossed the Siang River a few days ago wheeled south in an apparent attempt to come up behind Hengyang and Hengshan. Hengyang is headquarters of the Nationalist central China command and key to the Nationalist defence line in the area. The bulk of Nationalist forces are concentrated between it and Hengshan.

Another arm of the pincers, driving south, opened an artillery barrage to force through. Reports said the Nationalists resisted stubboornly.

Communists driving south toward Kanchow, capital of Kiangsi province, also were reported to have run into stiff resistance. The Communists were reported stalled 15 miles north of the city, where heavy fighting occurred.

In northwest China, Communist troops driving west in Kansu province were reported to have headed north and south, toward Ninghsia and Szechuan provinces.

Police Guard Council Of Europe From Reds

STRASSBOURG, France (CP)—Police today moved to protect the Council of Europe from interference by Communists and radical cranks.

In a lightning tour of the city, police rounded up all copies of the French communique newspaper L'Humanite. The paper was banned for "disrespect toward foreign statesmen," especially Britain's wartime Prime Minister, Winston Churchill, and Constantin Tsaldaris of Greece.

Police also broke up a hunger strike by two "Citizens of the World" protesting the council's apparent lack of interest in their own program. The "Citizens of the World" are followers of Garry Davis who gave up his United States citizenship to campaign for world federal government.

Police threatened to feed forcibly the two, an American girl and a French youth, if they persisted in their strike. Ruth Allenbrock, 23, and Jean-Paul Koune, 19, were escorted from a bombed-out building where they had pitched a tent for carrying out their public fast.

Meanwhile, Communists announced they will hold a mass meeting here tomorrow night near the square where Churchill is due to speak.

The police spokesman said no action has been taken to forbid the Communist counter-demonstration. Adequate security precautions had been arranged for the Communist meeting and the public meeting organized by the European movement.

Cold-Blooded Murder Of 15-Year-Old Girl Told By Ex-Convict

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — A sallow-faced young man led police today to the body of a 15-year-old girl who had been beaten, stabbed, and hidden under a log pile near a Portland bridge.

Detectives said 22-year-old Morris Leland, picked up on another charge, voluntarily blurted out the story of a brutal slaying police had never suspected.

They said Leland, with a long criminal record, admitted killing the girl after she refused his advances, because "she was a good girl and would make trouble with the police."

"It is the most cold-blooded case I've ever had," said Chief of Detectives William Browne.

The girl—Thelma Taylor of Portland, a young farm worker—had been reported missing by her parents last Saturday, but there had been no previous hint she met with foul play.

Ends Party Wedged In Garbage Barrel

City policemen this morning wondered what job they might be called upon to do next after a 6 o'clock call to Chinatown. When they arrived on the scene they found a Chinese securely trapped in a garbage container.

He was doubled up and wedged into a wooden barrel. The barrel, which also contained garbage, had been put out for collection by garbage men.

Standing nearby was the Chinese responsible for the plight of the wedged-in victim. He was arguing with the collector to take his countryman away with the garbage.

With the assistance of Sgt. Thomas Banister and Constable Richard Berry the victim was finally extricated from the barrel and sent on his way.

Police said there had been a party.

Spaak Of Belgium Chosen Europe Assembly President

STRASBOURG (CP) — Paul-Henri Spaak, Belgian Socialist leader, was unanimously elected today as the first president of the European consultative assembly.

The chunky little Belgian resigned Wednesday as Belgium's acting premier and foreign minister so he could take over the top job in the newly-created Council of Europe.

Winston Churchill of Britain nominated Spaak for the assembly presidency. The 101 delegates from a dozen countries quickly endorsed the selection without opposition.

Delegates in private negotiations Wednesday gave their support to Spaak, one of Europe's outstanding political figures and first president of the United Nations' General Assembly.

Spaak had been serving as acting premier since Belgian elections more than six weeks ago in which his Socialist party lost ground. He was succeeded as Belgian premier by Gaston Eyskens, a Christian Socialist.

Four vice-presidents elected were:

Weatherman Predicts Crack In Ontario's Heat Wave

By CANADIAN PRESS

The weatherman promised today Ontario's current heat wave will crack tonight.

With temperatures already sagging away from the 90s, where they have been for the last four days, meteorologists forecast cool air moving down from the north will reach southwestern Ontario tonight, bringing thundershowers and long-awaited relief.

The mercury in Toronto, one of the hottest spots on Ontario's weather map, stood at 88 at noon, compared with a noon-day reading of 94 Wednesday and 95 Tuesday.

A Toronto high of 80 was forecast for Friday.

As temperatures pointed downward, one death was attributed to the heat. John Kozack, 54, collapsed and died from over-exertion while shoveling coal.

Wednesday's peak at Toronto was 97 degrees, a record for the date but two degrees underneath Tuesday's high.

While the mercury reached 80 at Halifax and Yarmouth, other martime temperatures were in the low 70s Wednesday. Montreal and Ottawa had a swift cooling after thundershowers were followed by pleasant breezes. Western temperatures Wednesday showed a high of 85 at Winnipeg, Brandon and Rivers in Manitoba, varying to 80 at Regina, 72 at Edmonton and 66 at Calgary. In British Columbia, Kamloops showed 75 degrees, but it was down to 57 at Victoria.

The many hot spots in Ontario Wednesday were counterbalanced by such temperature readings as 45 degrees at Hearst in northwestern Ontario, while Dawson City in the Yukon showed a range between 42 and 68 degrees.

Near East Arms Embargo Ended By Security Council

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y. (UP)—The United Nations' Security Council today voted to lift its embargo on arms shipments to the Near East.

By a 9 to 0 vote, with Russia and the Ukraine abstaining, the 11-nation council rescinded as obsolete the resolution under which armistice agreements were concluded between Israel and the Arab states with whom she fought the Holy Land war.

The council, however, reaffirmed its order to the Palestine belligerents to observe an unconditional cease-fire, and, by rejecting Soviet suggestions, continued the Palestine conciliation commission to negotiate a permanent peace to provide chairmen for the various Israeli-Arab armistice agreements.

Replacing the arms embargo was a suggestion by the acting Palestine mediator, Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, that the major arms-exporting countries agree to a "moral embargo" not to ship weapons to Israeli and her Arab neighbors in excess of their requirements for their own internal defence. Britain and the United States pledged themselves in the council to respect such a "moral embargo." No pledge, however, was forthcoming from France or Russia.

U.S. House Passes 75-Cent-An-Hour Minimum Wage Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House passed today a bill to raise the national minimum wage from 40 cents an hour to 75, as asked by President Truman.

The measure went to the Senate, where a similar minimum wage bill is pending. The Senate has set the measure aside repeatedly for other legislation, however, and it is uncertain when the bill may be called up for debate there.

The House action was, in a sense, a victory for the administration. The bill carried the 75-cent minimum advocated by the President, Secretary of Labor Tobin, and representatives of major labor organizations.

Canadian Teachers Take Crack At Boys In Hockey

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Teachers' Federation took a crack at Canadian hockey today, deploring the practice of placing boys playing junior hockey in centres away from their homes.

The discussion took place at a final session of the C.T.F. conference. S. G. B. Robinson of Toronto, secretary of the Secondary School Teachers' Association of Ontario, said boys between the ages of 17 and 18, playing junior B hockey in Ontario, are shifted from their hometowns to play hockey in other centres of the province, "and this is being done with the complete concurrence of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association."

E. T. Wiggins of Didsbury, Alta., newly-elected vice-president of the C.T.F., said this situation has practically destroyed high school hockey in Alberta.

D. G. Chemberlain of Rossland, B.C., spoke of similar conditions in British Columbia.

Eyskens Heads Belgium's New Coalition Government

BRUSSELS, Belgium (UP) — Belgium's new Coalition cabinet of eight Liberals and nine Catholics was sworn in by Prince Regent Charles of Belgium today.

The new cabinet was scheduled to hold its first meeting tomorrow and present its program to Parliament Tuesday for a vote of confidence.

Headed by Premier Gaston Eyskens of the Social Christian (Catholic) Party, the new cabinet includes former Premier Paul van Zeeland, Catholic, replacing Paul-Henri Spaak, Socialist, as Foreign Minister.

The Liberal Party executive committee decided at a meeting Wednesday to join the Social Christians in the coalition. The vote was 70 to 51.

Both the Socialists and Liberals opposed the return of King Leopold to the throne—the platform on which the Social Christians won the Belgian elections but not enough seats to give them a majority in parliament.

The new government presumably will handle the country's immediate economic and foreign affairs problem, leaving the Royalty question to be hammered out later by all parties.

One Woman's Day

By NANCY HODGES

WOMAN OR LADY?

A PASSING reference in this column some days ago to the prevalent abuse—or misuse—of the word "lady" appears to have met with a mixed reception from some of my readers.

One of them is somewhat irked by my obvious preference for the word "woman." Another older reader agrees with me and wistfully wishes that something could be done to revive the original use and meaning of the word "lady."

As to its meaning, I recall one that I heard many years ago and which I think still has merit: "A lady is one who never uses the term."

DICTIONARY DEFINITIONS

HOWEVER, just for fun I hied me to a dictionary to discover the official meaning of the word, and found no less than eight definitions, showing a wide variation in meaning. The first was: "A refined and well-bred woman; a woman of good family and recognized social position; corresponding to the similar use of 'gentleman'."

But I chuckled when I got to the eighth definition which was: "A calcareous apparatus in the stomach of a lobster for triturating food."

Why that particular process in a lobster's "innards" should be associated with a lady isn't explained.

LOBSTERS AND VULGARISMS

NOR DOES it particularly concern this column—unless, perhaps, to emphasize my contention that the application of the word "lady" to some females is most inappropriate!

Incidentally, the same dictionary goes on: "The use of "lady" to indicate a mere distinction of sex is a vulgarism. The word 'woman' best expresses the relations of the female sex to the race and to the work of the world."

It is because the term "lady" has been applied so indiscriminately that it has lost its finest meaning and assumed a snobbish, vulgar savor, in my opinion. Yet unless one refers to a "charlady" or a "saleslady," one is looked upon as hopelessly old-fashioned or priggish.

EMILY POST'S VIEW

INCIDENTALLY, I was interested to see by her column in an eastern paper a few weeks ago that Emily Post—the great American arbiter of how a lady should behave—disclosed her sentiments to a reader who wrote:

"I think it's too bad that the word 'lady' has gone out of general use today and that every female has to be a woman regardless of her qualifications."

"Since lady actually meant a gentlewoman, do you suppose you could encourage the use of this word to replace lady. Or in this day must every woman be labeled as every other woman or cause a class revolution?"

'GENTLEWOMAN FROM . . .'

MRS. POST replied that she thoroughly agreed that "gentlewoman is one of the most beautiful words in our language! I would like nothing better than to have it come back into use."

Oddly enough, one of the few places where "gentlewoman" is used today is in the United States Congress—a place where one would hardly expect to hear such an old-fashioned, lavender-and-lace expression. There, women members are addressed as "the gentlewoman from so-and-so."

In looking through an old book the other day I came across some advice to ladies of the '80's who wanted to do a little gardening in a refined and genteel way. It reads:

"Gentlewomen, if the ground be not too wet, may do themselves much good by kneeling upon a cushion and weeding."

NO LADY!

AS MY GARDENING habits definitely prove—if judged by that yardstick—that I am no lady, it may be more readily understood why I have a certain antipathy to the too general use of the word.

Perhaps my contrariness in being addicted to the word "woman" stems from the same source as inspired Tennyson when he wrote in his "In Memoriam":

"And thus he bore without abuse
The grand old name of gentleman,
Defamed by every charlatan
And soiled with all ignoble use."

Fewer Benefits Paid In June To Unemployed Persons In Canada

OTTAWA (CP)—Claims for unemployment insurance benefits declined in June.

The bureau of statistics Wednesday said they were down to 53,100 from the 63,700 claims filed in May, but up from the 39,600 filed in June last year.

By the end of June there were 80,400 ordinary claims on the live unemployment register, compared with 95,800 at the end of May and 56,500 at the end of June, 1948.

Compared with the 750,700 persons who were paid $5,511,000 in May, only 711,800 persons received one or more unemployment insurance benefits during June, getting $4,113,300. Payments were for 1,855,800 days of compensated unemployment in June, compared with 2,474,100 days in May.

In June last year 78,800 persons were compensated for 1,350,700 days. This amounted to $2,599,700.

Average duration of unemployment showed a slight increase in June, estimated at 16.6 days, compared with 16.4 days in May, but down sharply from the 17.8 days in June last year.

Benefits paid were slightly higher, averaging $36.79 for each unemployed person in June, compared with $36.56 in May and $34.13 in June a year ago.

Average amount of benefit paid for each compensated day of unemployment amounted to $2.22 in June, $2.23 in May and $1.92 in June last year.

Mayhew In Edmonton For Discussions

EDMONTON (CP) — Fisheries Minister Mayhew arrived in Edmonton Wednesday for discussions with provincial government authorities on the Alberta fishing industry.

Mr. Mayhew conferred with N. E. Tanner, Alberta minister of lands and mines. He told reporters their discussions concerned building up domestic consumption of fish in Canada.

Accompanying the minister were I. A. McArthur of Ottawa, department economist; G. R. Clark, Ottawa, director of Pacific and inland fisheries; and H. V. Dempsey of Winnipeg, chief supervisor of inland fisheries.

William S. J. Reader, Colwood Army Camp, was fined $50 and costs when he pleaded guilty to a charge in Provincial police court Wednesday afternoon of driving a vehicle while his license was under suspension.

Death Proportion Due To Distribution Of Age Groups Here

The fact that the unusually high proportion of 69 per cent of Greater Victoria's deaths during the second quarter of the year were caused by heart disease and cancer is due to the age distribution in this area, according to the Victoria-Esquimalt Board of Health reported by Dr. J. L. Gayton, medical health officer. Heart disease accounted for 56 per cent and cancer for 13 per cent.

Dr. Gayton reported a total of 325 deaths in Greater Victoria during April, May and June of this year, compared with a total of 317 for a similar period in 1948. Fifty-six per cent of the deaths during the three-month period this year occurred among people over 70 years of age.

Total births during the period showed an increase from 517 during the first quarter to 643, and there were 53 more boys than girls.

There were nine infant deaths, giving the low rate of 14 per 1,000 live births. There was one maternal death.

"Marriages," said Dr. Gayton, "showed the usual spring increase to 305 in three months, or almost double that of the previous quarter."

He reported the peak of the measles epidemic was reached late in the second quarter with 449 cases in June. No deaths were reported.

Use of BCG vaccine for prevention of tuberculosis in special groups had been started by the department in co-operation with the provincial division of T.B. control and was meeting with good response, Dr. Gayton said.

Liberals Increase Majority In Nfld.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—The Liberals have won their 22nd seat in the 28-member Newfoundland Legislature.

Final count in the Labrador by-election showed Wednesday night that Liberal Harold Norwood had polled 1,268 votes compared to 133 for Progressive Conservative candidate Samuel Grant—a majority of almost 10 to 1 in the two-party fight.

Standing in the Newfoundland House now is: Liberals 22, Progressive Conservatives 5, Independent 1.

The provincial by-election was held July 25. Voting was conducted under Newfoundland's 1913 Election Act, which rules that all ballots must be collected before counting can start. The vote was counted at the Goose Bay air base.

The other constituencies selected their members May 27 but polling in Labrador was deferred because of weather conditions.

Jet Airliner Climbs To 36,500 Feet

HATFIELD, Hertfordshire, Eng. (Reuter)—A test pilot Wednesday took Britain's "top secret" airliner, the four-engined all-jet De Havilland Comet, up to a height of 36,500 feet, it was announced Wednesday night.

The Comet already has exceeded 400 miles an hour at reduced engine power in 14 trial flights since her maiden flight July 27.

Claims Breach Of Repatriation Rules

WARSAW (Reuter)—Poland's request to Italy to repatriate 150 Polish children has been ignored, government spokesman Gen. Wiktor Groz said Wednesday.

The children, mostly girls, left Italy early this month for the British zone of Germany, where it was believed they were awaiting shipment to Canada, he added.

Groz condemned the International Refugee Organization for "flagrant breach of its repatriation statutes." He said: "This case proves how right were the representatives of the eastern European countries when they said the organization was nothing but a recruiting centre of cheap labor for overseas countries."

Truman Arms-Aid Program Not To Be Opposed By Taft

WASHINGTON (AP)—Friends of President Truman's $1,450,000,000 arms-aid plan were cheered today by word that Senator Robert Taft (Rep., Ohio) won't lead a fight against it, and that strong support from the military chiefs is assured.

Taft, chairman of the Republican policy committee, told a reporter he probably will vote against the plan of arming friendly countries. But he added he will not spearhead the opposition as he did against the North Atlantic Treaty. Taft came nowhere near winning his fight on the pact but he gave it plenty of trouble.

The Joint Chiefs of Staff—Gen. Omar N. Bradley of the army, Admiral Louis E. Denfeld of the navy, and Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg of the air force—added words of firm support Wednesday.

The military chiefs disclosed to three committees that the bulk of assistance to Europe would go to rearm once-powerful France.

Gen. Bradley said that a strong French army is the prime concern in the United States plan to build up forces in western Europe. The idea, he said, is immediate assistance to make the western Europe countries strong enough to delay and hamper any aggressor until the United States could get into action.

The $1,160,000,000 earmarked for European members of the North Atlantic Pact will not give Europe the military strength to stop an attack by Russia.

The army chief said it will take five or 10 years—"no one knows how long"—for western Europe to build up her economic and military power to a point where she can do that. But he added that the aid proposed now will strengthen her to the point where there may be no attack.

One group of senators headed by Senator Arthur Vandenburg (Rep., Mich) favor a stop-gap program until the North Atlantic defence committee comes into being and recommends a defence plan for western Europe.

This situation, senators said privately, has thrown the Michigan senator into opposition with his nephew, Gen. Vandenberg.

Bumper Crops . . .

Except where hail cut a path over the week-end causing damage estimated at $6,000,000, grain crops promising bumper yields are the exception rather than the rule on the prairies this year. In the area around Lethbridge, where irrigation has been used to supplement natural moisture, indications are the yield will be high. Here, W. R. Hughes and John Hocken are seen examining a heavy stand of wheat on the former's farm, nine miles north of Lethbridge. This field has grown to a height of four feet and promises to yield 50 bushels an acre.—(CP Photo)

U.S. Steel Industry Opens Case Against Union Demand

By H. D. QUIGG

NEW YORK (UP)—The steel industry will open its case today against its workers' demands for a 30-cent "package" fourth-round wage increase.

A prominent industry spokesman will keynote the management case in the battle between 58 steel companies and the 1,000,000-member United Steelworkers of America (C.I.O.).

The debate was resumed before President Truman's steel fact-finding board after a one-week recess called when the U.S.W. finished its direct case.

The three-man board, appointed by President Truman July 16 to avert a nation-wide strike over the new demands, will submit its findings to the President by Aug. 30. The union, under Mr. Truman's 60-day truce proposal, has advanced its strike deadline to Sept. 14.

The board gave each side eight days to present its case.

The steel industry has emphasized its position that it will not be bound in any way by the board's recommendations for a "fair and equitable settlement." The board's findings have no legal or moral binding power on either side but are expected to have an impact on public opinion during the 15 days which will be available for bargaining between the board's report and the strike deadline.

The union's 30-cent "package" demand, first made public when U.S.W. and C.I.O. president, Philip Murray, opened his case before the board July 28, is broken down as follows: 12½ cents an hour wage increase; 11.23 cents an hour for pensions; 6.27 cents an hour for social insurance.

The union contended that the recent declines in the cost of materials used by the steel industry would more than offset the union demand. It estimated the industry was making a profit at a rate of more than $1,000,000,000 annually, on the basis of earnings for the first half of 1949.

Clippers Claim Two New Records

LONDON (AP) — Pan American Airways said today its Clippers have excelled the Gander-to-London flying record twice in the last two days. The airline said the Clipper America flew the distance in six hours, 48 minutes. Tuesday, another Clipper made the same flight in six hours, 52 minutes. The Gander-London record of seven hours, 24 minutes had been held since Nov. 17, 1948, by a British Overseas Airways Constellation.

Fourth Tax Charge

MONTREAL (CP)—Russel R. Smith of suburban Verdun appeared in court for the fourth time here Wednesday on charges of refusing to file income tax returns. Smith, formerly of Saskatoon, was fined $250 on each of the three previous occasions for failing to file income tax. He claimed the law under which the tax is collected is unconstitutional.

Polish Child Labor Charge Mystifies Canadian Officer

LONDON (CP)—Canadian immigration authorities in London today were mystified by a Polish charge Wednesday that the International Refugee Organization is helping Canada obtain 150 Polish children "as cheap labor."

A Polish foreign ministry spokesman said the I.R.O. was preparing to ship the children to Canada to prevent their return to their homeland and families.

Gen. Wiktor Grosz said the children had left Italy this month for the British zone of Germany. Poland's request to Italy that the children be repatriated to Poland had been ignored, he said.

Gen. Grosz condemned the I.R.O. for "flagrant breach of its repatriation statutes" and added that "eastern European countries were right in declaring the I.R.O. nothing but a recruiting centre for cheap labor . . ."

The Polish government said the children now are camped at Hamburg, Germany, awaiting passage to Canada.

One Canadian official today said the children are either known orphans or youngsters whose parents have not been able to be traced in the wartime and postwar refugee tides.

"Any who have parents living are not accepted," the official said.

He added that Poland so far has made no protest to the Canadian government about any group of refugees now seeking admission to Canada.

Poor Weather Helps Delay Demolition

Between the weather and the city building inspector's stop-work order, it now appears that outside demolition work on buildings on the new Post Office site will not begin until the end of next week at least.

J. W. Oosterink, city building inspector, late last week issued a stop-work order on demolition work on the site. At that time, he said the order would not be rescinded until sidewalk hoarding had been erected around the buildings to be demolished.

Carpenters since have been busy preparing the hoarding for erection, but the poor weather has held up the work and it was reported today that the hoarding probably would not be completed until the end of next week.

Mantime, wreckers have been carrying on interior demolition work and many of the buildings to be torn down already have been gutted, with nothing left but the bare walls and roofs awaiting the wreckers' sledgehammers and crowbars.

Order Re-Analysis Of Traffic Scheme

Immediate re-analysis of the present system of marking downtown streets for the direction of traffic was demanded today by the city's transportation committee, headed by Ald. H. M. Diggon.

The decision followed a complaint by the B.C. Electric Railway Co. that its buses did not have sufficient room to make a right-hand turn from the present lane marked for that purpose.

The present lane, it was said, was too narrow and too short by virtue of the close proximity of the parking meters at the approach to the lane.

The committee is recommending that the second lane, now marked "No Turn," be marked "No right turn, except for buses."

Production Of Cars Shows Increase

OTTAWA (BUP) — Canadians bought more new cars in the first half of this year than they did in the comparative period of 1948, and on an individual basis they paid more for them.

With June figures setting a new record, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported 140,115 units rolled off Canadian production lines compared with 129,182 in the same period last year and 3,000 less than that in 1947.

MOSCOW (AP) — The Vakhtangava Theatre has scheduled for autumn production a play called "Missouri Waltz." The Transport Theatre recently announced it would present a new play called "The Mad Haberdasher."

Czech Catholics To Defy Government, Install Two Bishops

PRAGUE (UP)—The Catholic Church has decided to defy the Communist Czechoslovak government by proceeding with the installation of two new bishops next Sunday, a well-informed source said today.

The bishops will be consecrated without the "placet" (approval of the government, but will have full spiritual authority, the source said.

He said the new bishops were appointed a few weeks ago by the Holy See.

They are the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Ambrose Lazik and the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Robert Pobozny.

The bishops will be the first consecrated in Czechoslovakia since the Communist government came to power in February, 1948. Both the new bishops signed the last anti-government pastoral letter issued by the Czechoslovak primate, Archbishop Josef Beran, June 26. Their elevation to the hierarchy will increase it to two archbishops and 12 bishops.

CALGARY (CP)—John Cassidy of Moose Jaw complained to police Wednesday night he had been assaulted by three young men and robbed of $67 while walking on First Street East early today. He said the trio grabbed him, dragged him into the lane, and beat him up and stole the money from his wallet.

SEEING THE LIGHT

THE BETTER THAN TWO-TO-ONE VOTE to return to work registered by Australian coal miners this week would seem to have broken the strike that has tied up the industry of that country for the past seven weeks. But more important still, in some respects, it would also appear to have broken the hold on the miners' union that has been exercised by the Australian Communist Party. The Marxist leaders had insisted that the men remain out until certain conditions—wage increases, vacations and nationalization of the industry—had been fulfilled, and they had held the 23,000 members of the federation from their jobs until a referendum was unavoidable.

The vote of 5,403 to 2,343 may therefore be taken as a direct repudiation of the Communist plan, and an indication that the majority of the miners, although slow to perceive it, have at last realized that they were being used for ulterior political purposes. The Australian government had faced the issue from the commencement, charging that the walkout was a "political manoeuvre" by the Communist Party, and pledging that it would break the strike and "wipe out" the party. The first step has been taken, and by the miners themselves. Another "cold war" victory by the West appears to be in the making.

FOR THE WHOLE PROVINCE

COMPLAINT HAS ARISEN IN THE lower British Columbia Interior over the geographic distribution of seats in Premier Johnson's cabinet. The Kelowna Courier, for example, contends that, despite its belief that Minister of Labor John Cates, North Vancouver, and Minister of Agriculture H. R. Bowman, Fort George, "will probably administer their departments well and bring strength to the cabinet council," the "present composition of the provincial cabinet is neither fair nor justifiable."

This submission follows the admission that it is not always possible to select cabinet material on a geographical basis. The Courier's concern, however, is expressed over the fact that the "vast and productive section of the province west of Hope and between the C.P.R. mainline and the border has no cabinet representation."

While the complaint is not unnatural, the condition which exists should be reviewed, we submit, in broader perspective. Few British Columbians, past or present, could claim a better understanding of the province as a whole than Premier Johnson. As chief executive, moreover, he has displayed a keen appreciation of ability in choosing the men he considers best fitted for the posts that have been filled. And it might not be amiss for the Courier to consider a little more fully the responsibilities of cabinet posts. They are not vantage points from which occupants can grab special concessions for their own constituencies, but positions of trust in which the welfare of all British Columbians must be given undeviating attention.

As Edmund Burke reminded the people of Bristol a century and three-quarters ago: "You choose a member indeed; but when you have chosen him he is not a member of Bristol, but he is a member of Parliament. If the local constituent should have an interest or should form a hasty opinion, evidently opposite to the real good of the rest of the community, the member for that place ought to be as far as any other from any endeavor to give it effect."

Similarly with British Columbia's cabinet ministers, they should, and do to a degree the Courier apparently fails to appreciate, work in the interests of the whole community. Victoria, home of former Premier Hart, knows and respects the practice of Mr. Johnson's predecessor who dealt with issues on a provincial level—just as ministers are expected to deal with them regardless of any special pleaders from their own particular ridings.

HIGH CLAIMS DOWN UNDER

PERHAPS BEING ON THE "UNDERside" of the earth has something to do with it, or maybe it's just the hot weather, but the two gentlemen in Australia who are quarreling over their respective claims to ownership of outer space would seem to have gone to extremes in finding a point to dispute, and they are not likely to raise much popular enthusiasm for one side or the other. In somewhat the manner of adventurers in early times who landed here and there on new shores and claimed the territory in the name of the King of Spain or some other monarch, the disputants have each asserted that all space and territories outside of the earth's sphere are his, and he'll have no respect for any usurper. James Managan, an American, has called his possession "Celestia." Leo Brandt, an Australian, prefers the term "Spacia," and avers, according to a copyrighted Southam dispatch, that the entire realm belongs to him.

We do not choose to take sides in the matter. We merely note the controversy and hope that the better man may win. Meanwhile it provides what editors call a "hot weather story," and no doubt could be quickly terminated, if necessary, by some governing authority suggesting that the owner pay taxes on his claims.

CAN WE USE OUR NORTHLAND?

ALTHOUGH MUCH OF THE NORTHwest and Yukon territories is muskeg and water, and reclaimable wealth there is generally restricted to minerals and wildlife products, current discussions of food productivity might well lead to more intensive research into the possibilities of this section of the continent which represents approximately one-third of Canada's area. In his talk to the Kiwanis Club the other day, Maj. E. G. Oldham revealed some of the attractions of the vast regions which have proved a magnet for few other than hardy, pioneering people. He did not minimize the disadvantages of the territory, but he was able to point to certain compensations.

Apart from its potentially strategic position in the event of hostilities, the land north of the 60th Parallel may, in future, assume an infinitely greater importance in the world scheme of things than it does now. At the present time newspapers, periodicals and some scientific books are bringing to the fore the problems of overpopulation. Not all the prospective inhabitants of this globe can live under the most salubrious conditions. There just is not enough room for the estimated populations of the years to come. Nor, under existing methods, is it possible to guarantee enough food for future generations.

Under these conditions, the potentials of the far north might well be studied more closely with a view to production of supplements to the world's larder. Before the curtain rang down on Russia, it was not unusual to hear reports of unusual agricultural developments in the Siberian sub-Arctic. Similar application of scientific methods of food production in comparable reaches of the Canadian tundra do not seem impossible.

PROVIDING INTERESTS

DESPITE THE FACT THAT AT LEAST one of the members "is not a lover of hot dogs," the Victoria Aged Pensioners' Association, No. 3, apparently enjoyed its annual picnic at Beacon Hill Park this week. It is gratifying for their juniors to learn that the old folk are able to get around and to derive pleasure from the entertainments provided for them. And it is satisfying to note that a number of organizations facilitate the meetings of our senior citizens in a manner to maintain their interest in life.

In addition to the picnic, there have been camps, a trip, and various functions calculated to appeal to their tastes. These are apart from the other private engagements made for them by their particular friends.

For many, of course, the difficulties of sustaining themselves on exceedingly meagre incomes impinges on the fuller enjoyment of life which might otherwise be theirs. All activities which assist them to find a little more brightness are to be commended. It should not be forgotten that we are the heirs of the improvements they have given to the world. Too many of us are inclined to forget our obligations to them and to ignore the simple courtesies and assistance we could furnish to make their later years interesting.

ON THE HIGH SEAS

THE PROBLEMS OF A SHIP'S MASTER are legion. Quite apart from his duties in regard to the ship—the ever-present responsibility for its proper navigation, its economical operation and the safety of the officers and crew—he must be an expert in marine law, a solver of technical stowage problems, a physician, banker, store keeper, psychologist, religious functionary and general authority on anything that can happen to a ship and from 20 to 100 or more men. To this partial list must be added the demand being made upon the captain of an American vessel due to reach San Francisco in a few days with a cargo of wild animals from Siam.

One of the zoological specimens, an elephant, is about to become a mother, and the harassed skipper has wired shore experts for information on what to do. Not only must he supervise the birth—a rare occurrence among elephants in captivity—but he must also provide for care of the calf if the delivery is successful. The latter chore includes protecting it from the mother, who is expected to exhibit infanticidal tendencies. We may take it for granted that, following the indomitable tradition of the merchant marine, the ship's master will come through with flying colors, but it will be constantly on his mind that whether he acquits himself well or badly, he has a patient on his hands who will never, never forget.

STRIKING CLOSE TO HOME

IF ANY FURTHER EVIDENCE WERE needed as to the severity of Canada's housing shortage, it should be provided by the fact that the Dominion official responsible for a solution is himself about to become homeless. An Ottawa dispatch reveals that Reconstruction Minister Robert Winters, who at the moment is on a trans-Canada tour conferring with provincial authorities on measures to build more dwellings, has been given notice that the lease on his home in the national capital expires in three weeks. While trying to find housing for Canadians in general, therefore, the Minister must also locate a roof for his wife and three children in a city where the scarcity is acute—ample indication that the federal problem is in the hands of a man who has personal experience of the urgency and exasperation that afflict the temporarily homeless.

Matter Of Fact

By JOSEPH ALSOP From Washington

THE OTHER PROP IS CRACKING

THERE WERE two vital props of the successful foreign policy of the earlier Truman era. The first was the close collaboration between the leaders of the administration and the leaders of both parties in Congress. The second was the intimate partnership between the state and defence departments. The first prop was kicked away immediately after the election. The second prop is now showing signs of cracking. Anything more serious could hardly be imagined.

Thus far, the only real danger signal is a kind of muttering, growling tension between the two departments, arising largely from the impulsive activities of Secretary of Defence Louis Johnson. For reasons which are extremely hard to understand, Johnson from the first showed no wish for the kind of close relationship with the State Department that existed in the time of James V. Forrestal, Robert A. Lovett and George C. Marshall.

IT WAS not that Johnson exactly declared open war upon Secretary of State Dean G. Acheson. It was rather that state-defence relations began to be disturbed by all sorts of petty, familiar, bureaucratic aggressions—limitations placed by the defence secretary on co-operation at lower levels; incursions by Johnson, in his role as Democratic money-raiser, into the field of State Department appointments; disputes over small prerogatives; Defence Department criticisms of State Department practice.

As is now rather widely known, this first phase of guerrilla warfare has now emerged into a second phase of differences on policy. Of these, there have been two. With a sound instinct for an adversary's weakest point, Johnson fired the first shot by insisting that the United States ought to have a Far Eastern policy of some sort.

THE State Department, although desiring nothing less than clear policy in Asia, lacked adequate grounds for opposing Johnson's sensible demand. An important effort to shape Far Eastern policy thus began, and is still in progress. In this field as yet, contrary to common report, there has been only one open dispute. This arose from Johson's opposition to publication of the China White Paper, on which he was unfortunately overruled. It remains to be seen what will occur when Johnson and Acheson must consider the new Far Eastern policy papers in the Security Council, as they will shortly have to do.

Meanwhile, another dispute has broken out over Yugoslavia. The issue is whether to permit the Tito regime to purchase a small steel blooming mill in the United States. Some months ago, the Security Council and the President approved a limited policy of aid to Tito, as an important crumb in the Kremlin's bed. But Johnson has now adopted a view of Tito differing from the Security Council's.

SECRETARY of Commerce Sawyer, ever anxious to obstruct American foreign policy, took the question of the blooming mill to the Defence Department. Johnson then ruled that the Tito regime was hardly different from a Soviet satellite. And on this ground, Sawyer refused an export permit for the blooming mill. Nothing could be more ludicrously silly, or more frivolously dangerous. The enmity between Tito and the Kremlin is happily reaching new levels of virulence. If the one crack in the Soviet monolith is to be turned to advantage, the situation cannot be upset by this sort of ham-handed intervention.

There is something more important here, however, than the immediate points of difference between state and defence. The fundamental question is not whether Tito will get his blooming mill, but whether the remaining American initiative in world affairs will be canceled by internal squabbles. In the last analysis, this is up to the President.

ON THE specific issues, a wise forecast is that President Truman will continue to support the State Department, as he did when he personally ordered the China White Paper to be published. Louis Johnson's all-to-visible presidential ambitions have not exactly endeared him to the White House, however many thousands of dollars he may have collected in the last campaign. And there is the closest possible personal relationship between Truman and Secretary of State Acheson, originating in the time when Acheson was Truman's only liaison with the distinctly independent State Department of James F. Byrnes. When the blooming-mill row is taken up to Truman, he is expected to find in Acheson's favor a second time.

IT IS not enough, however, for the President to arbitrate existing disputes between his policy-makers. In the present atmosphere within the administration and between the administration and Congress, bold, urgently needed steps are already being shirked simply because they may lead to disputes.

In the case of Yugoslavia, for instance, Tito may shortly require much more than blooming mills. The British crisis rolls onward unchecked. The disaster in China begins to threaten a catastrophe in Asia. Yet because of the loss of administration unity and the abandonment of bi-partisanship paralysis increasingly grips United States policy on all these vital matters. This is the danger the President must guard against.

Upholding The Peace

A Long Hard Road

The second of two articles by LEON DENNEN, NEA Special Correspondent, from London.

EVEN in the view of the most ardent supporters of Labor, it is already too late to remedy the British situation without additional U.S. aid.

His Majesty's government may soon have to go a third time to Washington to ask for more dollars.

GIVE AGAIN?

Will the American people, it is asked here, give and give again? Are they ready to embark upon bigger and costlier Marshall Plans? Those who believe that the security of a democratic Europe depends largely on a strong Britain hope that the United States—for its own security if for no other reason—will be generous a third time.

In order to achieve a mythical socialism, Lenin (and Stalin after him) thought little of sacrificing the Russian people. In the Soviet "experiment," the ordinary Ivan became a tiny screw in a vast totalitarian machine. But Britain was and remains one of the most democratic states of our time.

The common people count in the concerns of those who govern them. And the British people, after a decade of austerity and belt-tightening, are physically and morally tired.

The top Labor leaders are tired, too. The casualty list among them is extremely high. Little new blood has been injected into the Labor Party during the past four years. Should the present leadership be forced to retire, there would be none to replace it.

Wiser heads, like Herbert Morrison, Labor's brilliant parliamentary whip, and Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, foresaw the dangers of rapid over-nationalization.

THEY FAILED

But they were too weak to resist the pressure of the Harold Laskis and the other "Marxists" who clamored for "socialism in our time."

Thus, England is today neither Socialist nor Capitalist.

The well-to-do are still able to live lavishly on their past earnings and even on their present profits, however restricted and diminished. The middle class is being taxed out of existence. The standard of living of the workers—on whose behalf the Labor government is courting all this trouble—has not declined. But it also has not improved much over the wartime austerity level.

Ever since the arrival in Europe of John Snyder, U.S. Secretary of the Treasury, persistent rumors are current, both in London and Paris, that the U.S. State Department is about to abandon its support of the "non-Communist Left," as represented by the Labor government and Henri Queuille's middle-of-the-road Coalition in France.

These rumors are partly attributed to a statement made by Henri Reynaud, former French Premier, following his return from Washington some weeks ago.

According to Reynaud, the days of the Queuille government are numbered because Congress is now on the warpath against state planning and the nationalization of industries in Europe.

NOT LIKELY

Well-informed diplomats doubt these rumors. The U.S. State Department, they say, is only too well aware that the death of the "Third Force" governments would create a vacuum in Europe which only the Communists would be in a position to fill.

Bible From The Battlefield

BBC London Letter

ROBIN Scutt, a member of the BBC's French Service, has been the means of restoring a Bible to a Welsh corporal who lost it in 1944, at Pont d'Ouilly on the Normandy battlefield.

Scutt was passing a farm at Clécy in Calvados one fine evening this summer when a farmer came out and asked if he were the BBC gentleman reported to be in the district and if so, could he spare a moment? Scutt went indoors and the farmer, M. David, plied him with coffee and wine and brought out an English Bible which he had found on the battlefield at Pont d'Ouilly in August, 1944.

CAREFULLY KEPT

There was an inscription inside, "From the clergyman of St. Luke's, Swansea, Wales, to Eric Davies, 1931." Would it be possible, said M. David for Mr. Scutt to find the gentleman, who had almost the same name as he had, and give the Bible back. He had kept it very carefully.

Scutt promised to do his best but thought with misgiving of the many thousands of Davieses in Wales. He knew that in August, 1944, the Second Battalion of the Welsh Guards had fought in that part of France and when he got back to London he rang up the War Office and asked if Eric Davies' name was on the battalion's register.

Two hours later the War Office rang back and said that they had traced a Cpl. Eric Charles Davies in the Second Battalion of the Welsh Guards. He had been seriously wounded near Pont d'Ouilly in August, 1944, and sent home to Britain. They gave his prewar address at Pontypridd, in Glamorganshire, Wales.

Scutt wrote at once. Time went by and he had rather lost heart when he received a letter from Eric Davies, saying that he was indeed the missing corporal. He had lost his Bible by leaving it in his kitbag in a lorry following up the company's attack. The lorry had disappeared and was very probably blown up.

DEEP GRATITUDE

He enclosed proof of his identity, expressed his profound gratitude to M. David and asked if Scutt would write to thank the kindly Frenchman, as the Welsh corporal's French was very poor. The BBC man obliged with a letter to M. David, and sent the Bible back to its rightful owner who received it almost five years to the day after he had lost it in the Normandy battle.

Second Thoughts

The Times of London

AN almost imperceptible moue of disgust, a scarcely audible tck-tck of disapproval — these will have been the first instinctive reactions of most Englishmen to the news that a native of Dijon interrupted a wedding reception recently held there by rushing clad only in vine leaves, among the guests and shouting (in French, of course): "I am Bacchus!" It was, no doubt, a deplorable occurrence. One knows that all foreigners are excitable, and one is always having to make allowances both for the delusions from which they suffer and for the clothes they wear; but this fellow really seems to have gone a bit too far. He must—even the most charitable of us cannot but conclude—have been a bounder.

The Puritan streak in us sometimes makes for hasty judgments, however, and those with recent experience of wedding receptions may on second thoughts revise their estimate of his guilt.

Into such a concourse the irruption of a man dressed as, and claiming to be, the god of wine would at least inject an element of the unexpected. As a target for criticism he would instantly supersede the bride's mother's hat, the sandwiches filled with an unidentifiable paste, the ankles of the bridesmaids. His arrival, like the detonation near by of a flying-bomb, would have a unifying effect. There would be no more need to scour the brain for topics of conversation, and the footsore would forget about their feet. It is as well therefore, before condemning the masquerader who interrupted a wedding reception at Dijon, to reflect what a useful and constructive part he could have played at some of the functions of this nature which we ourselves have had occasion to attend.

GLOBAL SURVEY

By JAMES D. WHITE

Associated Press Foreign News Analyst
(For DeWITT MACKENZIE)

SOME of the giddier ideas abroad about the United States are being hopped up by Communist propagandists.

Samples: A recent Moscow cartoon shows an American football game so violent that the referee operates in an armored car among players and fans armed with guns and clubs. A recent article in Rude Pravo, the official Communist newspaper in Prague, Czechoslovakia, depicts the United States as a place where sitting on flagpoles is common.

A.P.'s Prague correspondent, Richard Kaisischke, says Rude Pravo's argument runs like this: the United States is so full of contradictions and frustrations that one out of 30 Americans blows his top and climbs a flagpole or does something equally odd to get away from it all.

Rude Pravo then criticizes, dead-pan, the American press for not telling the truth about Czechoslovakia.

While the American press isn't exactly troubled by an inferiority complex, at the same time it doesn't claim to be perfect. Some of it may have done wrong by Czechoslovakia, but the picture could scarcely have been as distorted as Rude Pravo's own blowup of past or present American half-truths presented as the whole truth about the United States.

GOOFY ELEMENT

We have our goofy element, and I once heard a sober economist argue seriously that one of the basic liberties is the freedom to make a fool of yourself if you don't hurt somebody else in the process.

But the Communists are working on a mean little quirk in people everywhere, including ourselves.

That's their prejudice about others, their acceptance of everything that supports the prejudice, and their disinterest in anything that might upset the prejudice.

Any editor who ever filed news from the United States abroad can tell you the great demand abroad is for the freakish in American life. The goofy story from this chromium-plated wilderness is the one that always wows the foreign reader.

In short, the world outside tends to think of the United States as the home of the abnormal, and therefore is not much interested in what is normal.

This is what the Communists are working on.

ALL-CANADIAN SHIPS

Edmonton Journal

One of the most notable things about the new anti-submarine escort ships soon to be built for the Royal Canadian Navy is that they are the first all Canadian warships in history. A navy release some time ago described them as "entirely of Canadian design throughout, and their manufacture will be carried out in Canada with Canadian personnel and resources."

OUR RAILWAYS

Montreal Star

It must be either the heat—or possibly the special transportation problems of the island—that persuaded Premier Jones and his government in Prince Edward Island to suggest complete nationalization of the railways. Mr. Jones briskly disavows any tendency to socialism, but it seems to us that his hope that transportation efficiency will be increased by the creation of giant government-owned monopoly is pretty slim. Our railways are big enough now. To lump them together would be to create a Frankenstein.

MESS AND MUDDLE

London (Ont.) Free Press

Quite bluntly, the whole hospital situation is a mess and a muddle—one that would become apparent to every Canadian in the event this country ever had to deal with an epidemic. This point has been stressed — and acknowledged. It is a situation that warrants a round of conferences at all levels of government — and demands a settled and all-embracing plan of development that ranges all the way from the training of nurses to hospital construction, from the purchase of new equipment to a re-alignment and reapportionment of costs. Municipalities cannot tackle problems of that magnitude on their own resources.

Canada To Offer New Issue Of Bonds In United States

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Abbott Wednesday announced his intention of offering a $100,000,000 issue of Government of Canada bonds for sale in the United States.

A registration statement covering the issue of 25-year, 2¾-per cent bonds in that amount will be filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission in Washington "in the near future," the minister said in a statement.

Proceeds of the issue will be used to redeem three issue of 5-per cent long-term bonds of the Canadian National Railways and Harbor Commissioners of Montreal, all payable in United States funds.

This will be the second Government of Canada bond issue to be sold in the United States since 1943. The last issue, $150,000,000 was sold to a group of three financial organizations in New York a year ago this month.

MUST HAVE APPROVAL

In the case of any issue to be disposed of among more than 25 purchasers in the United States, the transaction must have the approval of the S.E.C.

The registration statement to be submitted to that body must contain all the details the S.E.C. considers necessary to enable the purchaser to know exactly what he is buying.

The new issue, which will be due in 1974, will be direct obligations of the Government of Canada and payable as to interest and principal in United States dollars.

Proceeds of the issue will be handed over to the Canadian National Railways and the National Harbors Board to redeem the following issues:

The $57,728,500 C.N.R. 5 per cent, 40-year guaranteed bonds which have been called for payment Oct. 1, 1949.

Modern Drugs Beat Bubonic Plague In New Mexico

SANTE FE, N.M. (AP)—Illness of two New Mexico residents Wednesday was found to be bubonic plague—the black death of the middle ages.

Only 21 other cases of the disease have been listed in the United States during the last 25 years.

Dr. Vernon Link of the Western Contagious Disease Control Centre in San Francisco, told a press conference that modern drugs apparently have achieved a smashing victory over the ancient, flea-borne disease. Treatment, he said, has brought dramatic improvement in both cases.

The victims are a 10-year-old boy and a 37-year-old man. They are residents of two widely-separated villages in northern New Mexico.

The boy was treated with streptomycin and sulfadiazine, the man with penicillin and aureomycine.

Dr. Link said all 23 cases in the last quarter-century have been traced to wild rodents carrying plague-infested fleas.

Fail To Disclose Where Money Hidden

SARNIA, Ont. (CP) — Two armed robbers who looted a bank at nearby Thedford of $3,334 last May were taken to Kingston Penitentiary Wednesday to serve 12-year terms, without disclosing what they did with the money.

James Shane and William Shortt were convicted at their first trial and sentenced to 15 years. They won an appeal on technical grounds involving the form of indictment. On retrial, they were convicted again July 8 and sentenced to 12 years.

None of the stolen money was recovered.

Election Of P.C. Man In Quebec Contested

MONT LAURIER, Que. (CP)—Action to contest the election of Henri Courtemanche, Progressive Conservative, in Labelle in the June 27 federal elections were taken in Superior Court here Wednesday in the name of Georges Labelle, a resident of the riding.

Courtemanche was declared elected over Ernest Whissell, Liberal of St. Andre, Que., in declaration day proceedings.

The action seeks to have Courtemanche unseated.

Labelle's petition states that Courtemanche was not a resident of Labelle and, therefore, had no right to vote in that riding; that he had voted although his name was not on the electoral list.

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Charles A. Banks, centre, with Premier Byron Johnson and Mrs. Johnson. Mrs. Banks was wearing a black garden party gown, fashioned with afternoon formality in finest sheer, complemented with a brief black lace stole. Her white Milan straw picture hat was outlined with narrow black ribbon; her jewels were a five-strand pearl necklace and diamond crescent pin. A classic ensemble of blended mauve and purple complemented with a mink fur neckpiece was worn by Mrs. Johnson. Her soft mauve felt hat was in off-face mode and her crepe afternoon dress in the deeper color tone, featured a draped skirt fullness.

Government House Garden Party Presents Gay, Colorful Scene

By ELIZABETH FORBES

The weather man said "cloudy" yesterday afternoon, and cloudy it was. With the result that, for the first time in several years, the annual summer garden party at Government House was held under a sky misted in grey.

Contrary to what might be expected, the softened light added a depth of color to the green lawns, the red geraniums, white Shasta daisies and and orange cannas in the flower beds, and even etched in bold contrast the khaki-toned lines of the marquees from where afternoon tea was served, and the deep green hues of trees in the background.

Bright tartans and white spats worn by members of the Canadian Scottish band, and the blue dress uniforms and white gaiters of the naval band from Esquimalt, seemed to be more colorful than ever under the subdued sky and garden chairs and tables arranged near the marquees, a clearer white.

Uniformed commissionaires stood at the big iron gates from 3.30 until 6 o'clock, to inspect invitations and as the many guests passed into the grounds, the scene changed to an animated picture, highlighted, as always, by attractive feminine ensembles.

ATTRACTIVE GOWNS

Placing trust in the weatherman, who had also pronounced "no rain," many of the younger set appeared in gay full-skirted frocks, stylishly long, and smartly tailored suits in soft greys, navy and plum tones.

In true garden party tradition there were light and airy frocks in marquisette over whisper taffeta, summer sheers, gleaming satins, velvets and taffetas. Worn, of course, with capes and coats, because of the weather.

Adding a gay flourish to the slim, silhouette suits were extravagantly trimmed hats. Flower-decked, opened crowned straws, wide-brimmed picture hats in satins and taffeta and, bowl-like cloches with shimmering ribbon, feather and bow trims.

With classic ensembles in fine crepes and woolens, brief jackets, full-backed capes and stoles of mink, marten and beaver were fashionable.

Sartorial splendor was also to be seen in masculine attire, officers of the Royal Canadian Navy in gold-braided dress uniforms, other male guests wearing cutaway coats with grey or black toppers, also white flannels, navy blue sack coats and straw hats as well as the more conservative business suits.

Promptly at 4 o'clock the R.C.N. band played the National Anthem and His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Charles A. Banks came from Cary Castle, along the curving driveway and down the terraced steps to the lawn to meet their guests.

Aides-de-camp accompanying His Honor and Mrs. Banks were Brig. J. Sutherland Brown, C.M.G., D.S.O.; Col. Maurice Turner, O.B.E.; Col. J. Ronald Kingham, M.C.; Col. R. L. Mitchell, Lt.-Col. Brooke Stephenson, Capt. W. H. Molson, M.C.; Wing Cmdr. J. D. D. Campbell, Cmdr. Hugh Paterson and Lieut. Gar Dixon.

Best Wishes From Old Country For Pozer-Knudsen Newlyweds

More than 20 telegrams from Denmark, England and points across Canada carried best wishes and congratulations to Miss Margaret Elizabeth "Betty," daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. S. Knudsen, 3841 Carey Road, and Sydney Melbourne N. Pozer, Prince George, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Pozer, Chilliwack, following their marriage in Centennial United Church Saturday evening.

The occasion also marked the groom's reunion with three fellow R.C.A.F. prisoners of war who were interned for two years in an Italian camp, Ed Bell, Art Watson and Bill McKinley.

Rev. W. R. Ashford performed the wedding ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an ivory-toned slipper gown, with yoke of net, and bodice bordered in lace, looped with pearls. A bouffant skirt, flounced at the hemline to show lace ruffles, was gathered to the fitted waist.

An embroidered calot, trimmed with orange blossoms, held the full-length tulle veil, and the bride carried white gardenias and heather in her bouquet.

Misses Pat and Peggy Knudsen, sisters of the bride, were gowned alike in ice blue corded taffeta, fashioned in off-shoulder mode, and with bouffant skirts. They had circular headdresses of white lace and sweet peas, and wore white lace mitts. Pastel sweet peas composed their bouquets.

Bill Pozer was best man for his brother. Dr. Harold Pozer of Vancouver and Jack Pulford, Chilliwack, were ushers. Dick Sneddon sang "The Lord's Prayer," and Mrs. Wilmshurst was organist.

At a reception at Hampton Hall, 150 guests were welcomed by the newlyweds assisted by their parents. Mrs. Knudsen wore a lavender blue two-piece dress and navy accessories, and Mrs. Pozer had pale pink accessories with her two-piece navy blue dress.

J. Hopkins proposed the toast, and the young couple cut their four-tier wedding cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Pozer left on a motor trip up-island. They will motor through United States and Okanagan Valley to Prince George, where they will make their home. The bride's travel costume included a forest green gabardine suit, grey suede accessories, and gardenia corsage bouquet.

Paquin Presents New Fall Showing

PARIS (AP)—Tight skirts, low necklines and pockets placed in peculiar places were the highlights of a fall fashion showing given yesterday by Paquin.

Lots of skirts, mainly for evening, fitted like the skin of a sausage down to below the knees where they kicked into fullness.

Necklines on some cocktail and evening dresses were so low even the mannequins got embarrassed.

Large pockets are set at the hemline of thigh-length box jackets and concealed slit pockets are placed into a vertical overbust seaming. An apricot-colored blanked velour topcoat with gigantic, stand-up collar had large, flapped pockets placed near the hemline at back and front.

Chapel Wedding For Thelma Meiss, James Randall

The chapel at Royal Jubilee Hospital, where the bride is a graduate nurse, was the setting chosen by Thelma Catherine, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Ste. E. Meiss, 2958 Orillia Street, for her marriage to James Randall, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Randall, 2815 Shakespeare Street.

The ceremony, Wednesday evening at 8, was solemnized by Dr. W. G. Wilson, was followed by a reception in Terry's Roseroom.

Later, the newlyweds left for Vancouver from where they'll travel to Chilliwack and through United States to Seattle and Portland, returning to this city to make their home at 1718 Fort Street.

Standard baskets of multicolored gladioli, smaller baskets of sweet peas and garden flowers and Colonial posies marking guest pews, formed the setting for the bride, given in marriage by her father.

Palest of blue satin fashioned the wedding dress, with classic skirt cascading slightly en train, and long-sleeved bodice finished with Peter Pan collar.

The same soft blue was repeated in the illusion net chapel veil crowned with a circlet of blue satin outlined in tiny blue flowers. A Colonial bouquet held raspberry toned gladioli and stephanotis. The bride wore her groom's gift, a triple strand of pearls.

PALE YELLOW GOWNS

Miss Betty Randall, honor maid for her brother's bride, wore lemon yellow taffeta. Her circular veil was held with floral bandeau and she carried a Colonial bouquet of yellow gladioli, blue sweet peas and cornflowers.

Pale yellow figured net posed over white satin created the frock for flower girl Patricia Davies. She wore a floral bandeau and a Colonial bouquet miniature of the honor maid's.

Mrs. Thelma Bavin, a fellow nurse, was organist.

Ushers were David Randall and Leslie Simmons. Robert Randall was best man for his brother.

Mrs. Meiss, whose pearl grey afternoon dress was complemented with grey accessories and pink straw picture hat, and Mrs. Randall, who chose white accessories with her black ensemble, greeted guests with the couple. Mrs. W. S. Nason proposed the toast to her goddaughter.

For travel, the bride wore a grey gabardine suit, with fourskin mink neckpiece, mauve orchid corsage bouquet, and grey accessories.

BABY'S CRY IS NOT ALWAYS TEMPER

DISTINGUISH between your baby's cry of pain and cry of temper. The "pain cry" should have instant attention. For the feverish distress due to gas on stomach or bowels or those common digestive upsets, give Baby's Own Tablets at once. Mrs. May Mundy, of Toronto, finds they work every time.

"I am the mother of nine children, three of them prize babies, and Baby's Own Tablets have been my only medicine in raising them to the healthy children they now are. As soon as my children became a little feverish I at once gave them Baby's Own Tablets and in a very short time the fever disappeared and the children were normal again."

Equally effective for constipation, upset stomach, teething troubles and other minor ailments of babies.

Quickly effective. Sweet-tasting — easily crushed to a powder, if desired. No "sleepy" stuff — no dulling effect. Get a package today. Sickness often strikes in the night. 25 cents. Money back if you are not satisfied.

The Misses Barbara and Joan Bate, who returned to Victoria in late spring from a six-month trip to the British Isles and Europe with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Bate, were meeting many friends.

SPINACH CARTWHEEL

Two pounds spinach, 1 medium onion, 8 medium potatoes, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 teaspoons salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, ¼ cup milk, 1 can cream of celery soup, ¼ teaspoon nutmeg, ¼ pound cream cheese.

Cook spinach, without water, just until tender. Drain and chop finely. Boil onion and potatoes together until tender, drain and mash with butter, salt, pepper and milk until fluffy. Heat celery soup, add nutmeg and the chopped spinach. Line a greased casserole with ¾ of the mashed potatoes and fill the centre with the spinach mixture. Cut cheese into narrow strips and arrange on top of the spinach, spoke-fashion. Line the inside rim of the casserole with the remaining mashed potatoes, fluffing them up with a fork. Place under the broiler until cheese is browned. Yield: six servings.

USE PASTRY BRUSH

A pastry brush is useful many times in a kitchen. It's handy for brushing poultry when you are getting it ready for the broiler or the roaster and it's a help in buttering pans for baking.

Drill Team To Appear

The newly formed drill unit, sponsored by Victoria Chapter, No. 25, Women of Moose, will put on a display during intermission at their dance, to be held tonight at K. of P. Hall, Cormorant Street, with Charlie Hunt's orchestra in attendance. The unit made its first public appearance on July 1.

TIME-SAVER

A time-saver can be made of waxed or parchment-type paper. One use is in sifting flour over the paper, then measuring it into the bowl. The extra flour is then easily returned to its proper container with no mess on the table.

STORE COOKIES PROPERLY

Store cooled cookies properly to keep top eating quality. Keep crisp, thin cookies in can with loose cover. Keep soft cookies in air-tight container (a covered earthen jar or a can with tight cover). Slices of apple or orange in jar help mellow and moisten cookies. Change fruit frequently.

FOR GELATIN SALADS

Are gelatin salads your special do-it-before-hand trick. Make your salads even better by using fruit juice rather than water as the liquid. You may use one cup of boiling water and one cup of cold juice or use two cups of heated juice.

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Anyone who has the care of a young baby these days should be made aware of the enormously changed attitudes toward a baby's feeding which prevail today.

In the early days of pediatrics, it was considered desirable to put a baby on a rigid schedule, to figure out a formula suited to his age and weight and then see that he swallowed every mouthful of it, as the schedule-hours arrived.

If the baby was asleep he was shaken awake in order to be put to eating, and if he happened to be awake and crying, he was kept occupied until the clock hand pointed to the proper hour.

Mothers, being unfamiliar with the then "new" attitudes toward feeding, swallowd this program, hook, line, and sinker. If some deviated a trifle and did not stick to the schedule, they were looked upon as careless mothers.

It is all so different today. Now from birth the baby enjoys permission to eat when and as much or as little as he pleases. His own hunger rhythm is the factor which demands respect. And luckily for all concerned, most babies have fairly regular hunger rhythms, so that they put themselves upon a workable schedule within the first few weeks.

If not, by the age of four months they do develop some "tolerance" for waiting, and so, tactfully but not forcibly, the mother can engineer their feedings until eventually they are established on a schedule that is pleasing to them and to the household in which they reside.

Along with baby's privilege of eating when he is hungry is the even greater privilege of refusing food when he does not want it. That this is not universally practiced is illustrated by the old-time nurse left in charge of a six-month-old infant, who spent the feeding hour trying to force the baby to take the bottle he obviously did not want.

Finally, unable to control his deft dodges and quick expulsion of the nipple, she held his mouth open and forced him to swallow. Such behavior is the very antithesis of what a sensible present-day nurse or mother would have done, which would have been to empty the bottle and say philosophically, "Well, evidently he isn't hungry right now."

Our leaflet, No. 5, "The First Six Weeks," may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

Fire Oft Reported

INGLEWOOD, Ont. (CP) — Firemen of the Inglewood brigade are getting little sleep these days because of a persistent fire in a nearby peat bog. Firemen say the fire, burning for the past two months, has resisted every attempt to put it out. The sleepless part comes from "hundreds" of calls at all hours by passing motorists who awake the firemen to report the blaze.

OLD BANK TO BE DEMOLISHED—The building once occupied by the former Bank of British North America on lower Yates Street will be torn down to make way for the new federal post office. Workmen have already begun dismantling the interior of the building, which was erected in 1859 and rebuilt in 1902. In later years the building was occupied by the Gospel Tabernacle of the Christian and Missionary Alliance.

Pleading guilty to a careless driving charge in Saanich police court Wednesday, Mrs. Marporie Walker, Langley Prairie, was fined $35 and given a blue license by Magistrate A. I. Thomas. According to Sgt. Jack Hamilton, the car Mrs. Walker was driving Sunday night hit a rock on the wrong side of Queenswood Drive and struck another car after careening for 284 feet.

40-Man Human Chain Fails To Save Youthful Swimmers

By DON MacKENZIE

INVERNESS, N.S. (CP)—Four persons drowned in the sea off this western Cape Breton mining town Wednesday night and two of a party that attempted to rescue the victims were feared missing today.

The body of one of the victims —Melvin White—was recovered today as grappling operations were started. White's body was washed up by the sea.

A courageous attempt by a 40-man human chain to save the four victims—Malcolm Gillis, 16, Gerald MacNeil, 14, Simon White, 52, and his son, Melvin, 27—ended in failure. All were from Inverness.

Two of the would-be rescuers are believed missing and their names still are not known.

Search parties, made up of miners, fishermen and other townspeople, combed the shore all night for the missing persons. Huge bonfires and miners' lamps dotted the beach. Doctors and clergymen joined in the vigil.

ORGANIZED BY MOUNTIES

The human chain, organized by five R.C.M.P. constables, had come within feet of reaching the struggling swimmers when it was caught by a treacherous undertow and pulled apart.

All the human links in the chain—except two—managed to struggle back to shore through the pounding breakers. Four were sent to hospital suffering exhaustion and shock.

Gillis and MacNeil were at a wiener roast on the beach with several teen-aged companions and decided to go swimming.

Not far from shore, they got into difficulties. Simon White and his son, both coal miners, went out to help them but were themselves caught in the clutch of the dreaded undertow.

SIREN SOUNDED

While the four struggled in the sucking tide, one of the party on shore rushed to the colliery and soon the mine's dreaded disaster signal screeched over the town. It is used normally in case of pit accidents.

The siren's blast summoned townfolk to the shore where miners and fishermen formed the human chain. It was impossible to get a boat through the crashing breakers.

The would-be rescuers clung grimly to each other in the rolling surf but the grip of their wet hands was no match for the dragging undertow.

Named As Deputy Clerk Of Commons

OTTAWA (CP)—The cabinet, after sitting the unusually-long period of four hours, made one public announcement Wednesday.

That was the appointment of Edward Russell Hopkins, legal adviser to the Department of External Affairs, to the post of deputy clerk of the House of Commons.

The last person to hold that post was Mr. Justice Roy T. Graham of the Saskatchewan Supreme Court, currently acting as chairman of the income tax appeal board.

The appointment followed that of Leon Raymond, former member of Parliament for Gatineau, as clerk.

Butter Stocks More Than One Year Ago

OTTAWA (CP) — Although production of creamery butter in Canada dropped slightly in the first seven months of this year, stocks on hand at Aug. 1 were higher than they were a year ago, the Bureau of Statistics reported Wednesday.

Production in the seven-month period amounted to 161,792,000 pounds compared with 163,881,000 in the corresponding period of 1948. Stocks at Aug. 1 amounted to 56,668,000 pounds compared with 41,986,000 on July 1, and 45,065,000 at Aug. 7, 1948.

The report did not contain figures showing margarine production or stocks.

Delay Negotiations With Railway Men

MONTREAL (CP)—Talks between representatives of 17 International Railway Brotherhoods and of the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways are being delayed because of the absence on vacation of several top-level company officials, it was learned here Wednesday night.

The talks originally were slated to start early this week to discuss the brotherhoods' demands for an increase of seven cents an hour and a 40-hour week with no reduction from the present pay for a 48-hour week.

Members Of A's Visit Esquimalt Playground

Ward Hurls Athletics To Series Sweep

Club Loses Matoh For Season With Broken Leg; Wenatchee Here Tonight

Settling down after a shaky first inning, Larry Ward pitched Victoria Athletics to their third straight victory over Spokane Indians last night 6 to 4 and kept alive the local club's drive for a playoff berth in the W.I.L. A's moved to within four games of fourth-place Wenatchee as the Chiefs dropped another close one to Vancouver Capilanos 4 to 3. It was the fourth straight set-back for Wenatchee at the hands of the Caps.

What promises to be the series of the season will get under way here tonight when the A's open a four-game stand against Wenatchee. If they hope to catch the Chiefs the Victoria club must gain in the current engagement as the schedule is drawing to a close. Manager Earl Bolyard has nominated Pete Vucurevich to take the mound.

Last night's victory might prove an expensive one to the Athletics as they lost the services of third-baseman Frank Matoh for the remainder of the season. In the third inning Matoh attempted to break his slide into second base on a force play and suffered a broken bone in his right leg. He is a patient at the Jubilee Hospital.

HACK AT THIRD

With Matoh sidelined Manager Bolyard pulled reliable Johnny Hack into third base and put Joe Morjoseph into leftfield. The latter came through with a home run his first trip to the plate and put himself in solid with the fans. Hack will start at third base tonight and Morjoseph in leftfield.

Game was highlighted by another heated argument between several of the Spokane players and the umpires. A couple of close calls on the bases went against the visitors in the early innings and in the eighth a Spokane rally was damaged when plate ump Rocky Flammia called out Lee Howard for failing to touch third base on what would have been Spokane's fifth run. There was plenty of squawking and it wound up with second-baseman Skip Rowland being thrown out of the game by base umpire Max Skulik for jockeying from the bench.

In hurling his 10th victory of the season Ward was the master all the way after the first frame, giving up single runs in the third and eighth innings. He struck out seven and walked five. Ward contributed to his own cause with a triple to deep rightfield in the fourth inning and later scored the A's third run.

John Conant was tagged with the loss, although he went out in the eighth for a pinch-hitter and Dick Bishop finished up.

Successive doubles by Ed Nulty and Paul Zaby combined with an error by Gil McDougald gave Spokane two runs to open the game. A's got them back in their half on Vic Buccola's triple to deep right, singles by Hack and Balassi and a hit batter. Larry Barton's home run moved Spokane ahead, 3 to 2, in the top of the third, but the A's matched that one in their turn at bat on McDougald's triple to the left-field corner and Noren's one-base knock.

Ward's triple, Johnston's single and a couple of boots by left-fielder Nulty moved the Athletics on top, 5 to 3, in the fourth. Movjoseph provided the sixth run with his circuit smash in the fifth. Palmer's second double and Nulty's single gave Spokane one run in the eighth and closed out the scoring for the night.

Yakima Bears today pace the W.I.L. by only four games. Tacoma's spirit of co-operation went by the boards last night. When Snag Moore bobbled an easy infield fly in the eighth to let the Tigers score two unearned runs and take a 3 to 2 decision, it marked only the third time in 17 meetings this season that Yakima has come out on the losing end.

Salem edged Bremerton, 4 to 3, to squeeze the Bluejackets out of sixth place.

Vancouver's Bob Snyder gave up only five hits, only one after the fourth, in beating Wenatchee for his 17th win.

Matoh Will Be Laid Up For Six Weeks

Frank Matoh, regular third baseman of the Victoria Athletics, will be lost to the team for the remainder of the season.

Matoh suffered a broken bone (fibula) in his right leg in last night's game with Spokane Indians when sliding into second base.

Dr. D. A. Hewitt, club physician, reported that Matoh would be out of action for six or seven weeks as a result of the injury.

Whittaker, Ashdown Share Soccer Honors

CALGARY (CP)—A triumphant band of soccer players from North Vancouver today carted the coveted Challenge Cup off to the Pacific coast.

The red-jerseyed North Shore United club won the trophy last night with a sparkling 2 to 0 victory over Hamilton in the deciding game of a best-of-three series for the Canadian football championship.

North Shore, which took the opening contest in the series 4 to 0 only to drop the second game 2 to 1, scored one goal in each half for their win last night.

Trev Harvey tallied the opening goal on a penalty kick and Fred Whittaker notched the second on a header from a corner. Whittaker's goal was his fifth of the series.

SECOND WIN

It was the second time that North Shore had won the Canadian championship in its long history. The club first won Dominion honors in 1938.

The victory climaxed a 25-year career for one player on the North Shore club, George (Uke) Grey. The veteran west coast player, now 39 and playing his last season as a player, won his first Dominion final medal in the series. For outside left Frank Ambler it was the fourth time he had played on a Dominion championship team.

Presentation of the trophy to team captain Tom Cumming was made in a brief ceremony following the game by Dr. O. J. Todd of Vancouver, retiring president of the Dominion Football Association.

For the third straight game Frank Ashdown, spectacular North Shore goalie, stole the limelight with a brilliant display that broke the hearts of Hamilton forwards and brought rounds of cheers from the 4,000 odd fans.

A freak bounce gave North Shore their game-winning break in the first three minutes of play. The ball, kicked directly in front of the Hamilton goal, touched the hand of Hamilton centre half Billy Burgoyne. Harvey made no mistake on the automatic penalty kick and drilled a sizzling drive into the lower left hand corner.

Aside from the penalty kick, Hamilton dominated play throughout the opening half, but North Shore started to take the offensive in the second half and put the game on ice at the 23-minute mark of the final session.

High-scoring Whittaker forced a corner at the Hamilton end of the field. Jimmy Spencer's corner kick dropped perfectly in front of the Hamilton goal and Whittaker headed it into the net.

Navy Track Meet Carded Tomorrow

The Royal Canadian Navy's annual command track and field meet will be held at 2 tomorrow, with 20 events slated for the afternoon. Highlighting Friday's Navy Week activities, the track and field meet will be held on the lower playing field, Colville Road, Esquimalt.

Men from H.M.C. ships and establishments, as well as U.N.T.D. cadets and reserve personnel, will compete for the trophies.

Women Catch 12-Lb. Spring Off Oak Bay

Indications that the long-awaited salmon run off Oak Bay will soon be in full swing came this week when a 12-pound spring salmon was caught near the Oak Bay Boathouse by Mrs. M. I. Barnett, fishing with her mother, Mrs. M. Dickins, 603 Hampshire Road.

Women were fishing between 5 and 7 in the evening. Experience was a new one for Mrs. Barnett, who had never caught a salmon before.

Nearly Blind Lesnevich Calls It A Night After Seven Rounds

NEW YORK (UP)—Ezzard Charles, having battered Gus Lesnevich into apparent retirement, was ready today to defend his claims to the world heavyweight championship against Lee Savold or "any other man in the world."

Charles—a slender, coal-black negro from Cincinnati—won a technical knockout over veteran Lesnevich of Cliffside Park, N.J., at the end of the seventh round last night before a sweltering and disappointing crowd of 16,630 in Yankee Stadium.

Lesnevich, former world light-heavyweight champion, could scarcely see out of either eye, and he was bleeding from gashes above and below his right eye and from a gash on his left cheek at the end of the seventh session.

Trained Freddie Fierro turned to Referee Ruby Goldstein as Lesnevich sat on his stool in the corner, and told Goldstein that 34-year-old Gus was unable to continue. The fight ended in the seventh round, according to New York rules, for the bell had not rung for the eighth.

Charles, who is recognized as world champion by the National Boxing Association, was making his first defence of the title he had won by outpointing ancient Jersey Joe Walcott at Chicago June 22. Ezzard risked the title more quickly than other previous champions making a first defence.

LESNEVICH UNDECIDED

In the dressing room, Lesnevich—in his 15th year as a professional fighter—announced his retirement from the ring. Later, he reconsidered and said he would need a couple of days to think about retiring. However, manager Joe Vella said Gus was retired as far as he was concerned. And members of the challenger's family agreed that Gus never would fight again.

Charles displayed much more savagery and aggressiveness last night than he did at Chicago, where he fought Walcott for NBA recognition as successor to the retired Joe Louis. However, the match last night was so lopsided that he actually added little to his prestige.

The New York Boxing Commission, which is not a member of the NBA does not recognize Charles as champion. And he must beat Savold or some other outstanding contender before he can gain recognition from the New York Commission and from the British Board of Boxing Control.

Savold still is matched tentatively to fight Bruce Woodcock of England at London in October; however, Woodcock has been trying to withdraw from that match. If the match is is called off, Savold may meet Charles at Madison Square Garden in October or November.

TERRIFIC HEAT

There were no knockdowns in last night's bout, which was staged in 91-degree heat in the humid Yankee Ball Park. However, Lesnevich was rocked in nearly every round by the 28-year-old champion, and he was staggered in the third, fourth and seventh rounds.

Game Gus tried to make a fight of it, despite his aged legs, and he landed some solid head smashes in nearly every session except the seventh; but the stocky, brown-haired, battle-scarred veteran was unable to sustain an attack in any round except the sixth, the only round which he won.

He slowed up Ezzard then with left hooks and straight rights to the head, and actually staggered him with one smashing right to the chin. But Charles came out blazing for the seventh and Gus had no stamina left with which to fuel a defense.

Joe Page Saves 20th Ball Game For Yanks

By all the laws of baseball statistics, the Boston Red Sox, not the New York Yankees, should be leading the American League today.

The Red Sox own the circuit's top batter in Ted Williams. They possess the league's "winningest" pitcher in Mel Parnell. In Williams and Vern Stephens, they have the one-two leaders in home runs and runs batted in.

In addition, they lead in team batting and slugging.

Yet the Red Sox find themselves in third place, 6½ games behind the front-running Yankees, who also own a 5½-game bulge over the runner-up Cleveland Indians.

There is only one answer for this strange, and for Boston, sad state of affairs. The Red Sox don't have Joe Page and the Yankees do. It's as simple as that.

The Yankees' great relief artist has saved so many games for the Yankees this season that they've stopped counting.

Take yesterday's important game between the Yankees and Red Sox in Boston. The Sox had drawn first blood Tuesday, winning the first of the three-game set. They needed the next two to get back in the running.

BAUER GETS PAYOFF BLOW

A three-run rally in the top of the seventh, highlighted by Hank Bauer's two-run single, had given the Yankees a 3 to 1 edge over Joe Dobson. Stephens clipped Yankee starter Ed Lopat for his 28th homer in the last half of the inning to make it 3 to 2. After Lopat survived a shaky seventh inning Stengel excused his lefty for the day and summoned his trouble-shooter—Page.

All Joe did was retire the dangerous Sox with only one harmless infield single in the eighth and ninth to preserve the Yankee victory. It marked Page's 36th relief appearance and the 20th game he's saved. His record is 10 to 4.

The Indians lost ground when they were edged out 5 to 4 by the lowly St. Louis Browns in a night affair. Dick Kokos homered in the ninth off Bob Lemon to snap a 4 to 4 tie. The Browns piled up a 4 to 0 lead in the first two innings, but homers by Lemon and Lary Doby tied the score in the fifth.

Brooklyn Dodgers and St. Louis Cardinals remained deadlocked for the first place in the National League. The Brooks needed a ninth-inning home run by Jackie Robinson with one on to beat Philadelphia's Phils 7 to 5. The Cards, behind the six-hit pitching of lefty Al Brazle, took an easy 8 to 0 decision from Cincinati.

The Cards pounded out 12 hits including four double sand three triples to give Brazle his 13th victory. He has lost five.

'Duncan Night' At Ball Park Tomorrow

It will be "Duncan Night" at Athletic Park tomorrow night when Wenatchee Chiefs tangle with the A's in the second game of their scheduled four-game crucial series, starting at 8.

However, if tonight's game is rained out a doubleheader will be on the program and festivities will get under way at 7.

Mayor J. C. Wragg of Duncan will dish up the first offering of the game.

In return the Athletics will play a split twin bill at Duncan, Aug. 28, with games to start at 2 and 6. Duncan all-stars will supply the opposition in both games. All proceeds from the Duncan games will go to the Solarium.

Loggers Renew Feud With Tiremen Tonight

Timber Service, zone softball champions, and Douglas Tire, Senior A League champions, will do it all over again, starting tonight at Central Park as the opening round of the league playoffs gets under way.

Fans will remember the torrid series between the two clubs in the zone series recently completed and the league playoff should provide a renewal of the keen rivalry between the two teams.

The tiremen are just itching to atone for their defeat in the B.C. zone play and will likely shoot Ken Gunter, ace of the staff, to the hill in an attempt to get the jump on the loggers in the first game of the best-of-three semi-final set.

Manager Wally Smith of Timber Service will probably retaliate with either Joe Bryant or Ray Hough.

In last night's final league game of the season, Douglas Tire scored two runs in the top of the 10th inning to edge Chinese Students, 3 to 1, and prevent the students from forcing a tie for the third place in the final league standings.

Gar Taylor singled home the winning run in the extra frame after Don Robinson had tripled. Vic Dale doubled to provide the clincher. Gunter and Norm Martin worked for the league champions with Stan Tenning going the distance for the losers.

Red's Service advanced into the final round of the women's senior B playdowns by running roughshod over Dodgerettes, 20 to 2. It was Red's second straight victory and qualifies them for a berth in the finals against Sidney.

Short score of senior A men's game follows:

	R.	H.	E.
Douglas Tire	3	9	1
Students	1	8	1

Gunter, Martin (6) and Milliken, Harris (8); Tenning and Chow.

The official said he had received a telegram from team captain George Campbell saying there was nothing to a Calgary report that he, Alex Murdoch and Jimmy McCardle were considering offers from Vancouver St. Andrew's.

Nancy Beecher Takes B.C. Cycle Honors At Local Meet

John Millman of Vancouver won both the one-mile and five-mile British Columbia cycle championships at Beacon Hill Park last night as mainland riders captured four of the five events on the program.

Millman led Lorne Atkinson and Tom Howe to the wire in the one-mile affair with the result being duplicated in the five-mile event. Times were 2.35.12 and 13.25.24 respectively.

Nancy Beecher of Victoria copped the provincial girls' half-mile championship with Jessie Slater, also of the city, second.

Glen Ewart of Vancouver won the class "B" five-mile race with Jack Ruby second while Gary McDonald took the junior boys two-mile race.

Veteran Edmonton Shot Lifts Ottawa Award

CONNAUGHT RIFLE RANGES, SOUTH MARCH, Ont. (CP)—Sheets of driving rain swept across the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association firing ranges yesterday, accompanied by squall winds during the shooting of the Coates team match.

Cooler air accompanied the rain to bring welcome relief from the intense heat for marksmen competing for prizes and a place on Canada's 1950 team that will travel to the Empire shoot in Bisley, England.

A four-man team from Prince Edward Island captured the prized Coates Cup and five D.C.R.A. silver medals with a top score of 366 out of a possible 600. The match called for 10 rounds at both 500 and 600 yards.

A Winnipeg prairie command headquarters team placed second with 364 and an Ottawa army headquarters team was third with 349.

Rain fell in blinding sheets during the match.

Heavy showers fell during the shooting of the Life Members' match won by Capt. J. R. Newell of Winnipeg. He shot one less than a possible 50 to win the D.C.R.A. silver medal and first prize money. There were seven 48s, including the one fired by Staff Sgt. E. O. Roberts of Victoria.

Forty-four years of competitive shooting experience and a keen eye beat a tricky westerly wind when Jock Saidler of Edmonton shot a 122 out of a possible 125 to capture a silver medal and top money in the tough Macdonald match.

Bright sunlight during the morning was the only aid to the bespectacled veteran of Bisley shooting, who admits to 60 years but is said by fellow Albertans to be older.

Saidler gives much credit to his wife who has encouraged him to keep at the sport when he has thought of quitting.

He shot 10 rounds at 300 yards and 15 at 600 to post scores of 49 out of 50 and 73 out of 75.

The Macdonald team match, fired concurrently with the individual match, was open to teams of four past or present members of the forces.

The Macdonald challenge shield and medals went to a prairie command headquarters team, members were Capt. M. M. Morgan, Lieut. J. F. Samson and Lieut. W. J. Newell of Winnipeg and Capt. G. E. Keeler of Camp Shilo, Man. They scored 463 out of a possible 500. A Royal Hamilton Light Infantry blue team was second with 460.

A four-man Ottawa army headquarters team took the Kirkpatrick Cup for the highest aggregate scores in the Tilton, Connaught, Bankers' and Macdougall matches, fired earlier this week. A Winnipeg light infantry green team was second.

The Victoria Rifles of Canada Challenge Trophy was won by a team from Hamilton Central Collegiate. They had an aggregate score of 929 out of 1,000 possible points in the Tyro, Bankers' and Macdougall matches fired earlier this week.

Cpl. A. T. Shipman of Winnipeg won top money in the Gooding junior match for shooters under 21.

Cross Cup finals will be played on Burnside green tomorrow evening at 7.15. The consolation game will be run off at the same time with all players knocked out in the first, second and third rounds eligible.

Sports Round-Up

By BILL DECKER

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Hey, Mr. Wrigley:

A lot of loyal Chicago Cubs fans out this way are doing a lot of head scratching these days. They're having trouble trying to figure out why the Cubs, last-place team in the National League, continue to peddle the best players with Los Angeles, last-place club in the Pacific Coast League.

While both Cubs and Angels wallow deeper in the cellar, the parent club has brought up only one player, second baseman Wayne Terwilliger, who was playing his first year of Triple-A ball.

Meanwhile, the Cub front office, apparently with the sanction of owner P. K. Wrigley, has sold two hard-hitting veterans, catcher Eddie Malone and third sacker Johnny Ostrowski, to the crosstown White Sox, and disposed of other veteran Angels to assorted minor league clubs.

Obviously it's a youth movement of sorts, although you'd have a tough time selling Angel fans on that one. They had to look at fat Pat Seerey making four errors in left field one night before he departed for Kansas City and points east.

And, as one fan put it recently: "I'm expecting the Cubs to sell Clarence Maddern (best remaining hitter) any day now. When that happens I'm not even going to watch the Angels on television."

POPULAR PASTIME

It's been a long time since so many Coast Leaguers have been sold upstairs in midseason.

Sacramento sent Al Benton to Cleveland; Seattle, Sammy White to Boston Red Sox; San Francisco, Dino Restelli to Pittsburgh; and Oakland, Lloyd Hittle to Washington and George Metkovich to the White Sox.

Where do you think that leaves P.C.L. prexy Pants Rowland and his plea for major league status?

Junior Tennis Champions Named

Doug Henley and Joyce Penny are the Junior Centre singles tennis champions.

Henley had little trouble with Ted Horsey in the junior men's finals, winning in straight sets, 6-4, 6-2. The junior women's singles was a three-set battle with Miss Renny pulling an upset in defeating first-seeded Isabel Henley, 0-6, 6-3, 6-4.

Horsey and Cecil Branson captured the men's doubles from Arnie Sundt and Lorenzoe Lopez, 6-2, 6-3. In the women's doubles Ann Sykes and Miss Henley emerged champions with a 6-4, 6-1 victory over Gladys Tremblay and Rosemary Noakes.

Winners were given American Lawn Tennis Association medals by Mrs. J. C. I. Edwards.

U.S. Cars, Drivers Here Saturday For Langford Auto Races

Promoter Bruce Passmore is hoping for a better break from the weatherman for his weekly auto racing meet at the Langford Speedway Saturday night. He intends to present the same drivers and cars scheduled to appear last week-end when the meet was called off owing to rain. Time trials start at 7.30.

American drivers scheduled to appear will include Del Fanning with his Fanning Ford; Les Wallischen with the No. 9 and driver Ernie Spaulding, and Tom Kent with the No. 96 and driver Don Olds. Gene Fanning will be back with the No. 4 but as yet has not decided on his driver. If Johnny Hausman brings over his No. 7 Samco, Pike Green will be behind the wheel. Victoria's Digger Caldwell will handle the No. 36.

Special meeting of owners and drivers of the B.C. Automotive Sports Association will be held Thursday night at the British Public Schools Club, starting at 8.

Morgan Paces Colts

Oak Bay Colts scored a one-sided 103 to 59 victory over Eatons in yesterday's weekly cricket match with Owen Morgan the individual star.

Morgan batted up 55 runs for the winners and took five department store wickets for 17 runs. Jim Corbyn hit 29 runs for the Colts in a ninth wicket stand before being bowled by Oakman.

Next week's match will be played at Beacon Hill.

Boosters Nip Loop Champs To Take Lead In Baseball Playoffs

Boosters moved a step in the right direction last night in their quest for their first senior amateur baseball pennant by nipping the league champion Pitzer and Nex squad, 6 to 5, in the first game of their best-of-three semifinal series. Contest was shortened to seven innings due to darkness.

Game proved to be a thriller in the last frame as losers had the tying run on third base with only one away. Southpaw Art Worth took Don MacKinnon on strikes, but successive walks to Glen Charlton and Ken Higgs loaded the bags. Climax came when Worth fanned right-fielder Al Duz to protect his slim victory.

Worth limited Pitzer and Nex to six singles and struck out 11. He gave up eight walks. Opponent Don MacKinnon went the full distance for losers, being nicked for 11 safeties.

A walk, single by Clint Hodges two errors, a sacrifice and another safety by Lowell Hodges gave Boosters a commanding 3 to 0 lead in the opening frame and they made it 4 to 0 in the top of the second. Losers got one back in their half of the second by way of two Booster errors.

The Hodges' clan scored their final run in the fifth but the league champs came back strong in their half to count four runs, closing the margin to a single tally.

Singles by Bernie Clarkson and Bud French and a walk loaded the bags. Bill Reynolds was hit by a pitched ball for one run and McKinnon's single chased over two more. A wild toss by Worth closed out the scoring.

Short score follows:

	R.	H.	E.
Boosters	6	11	4
Pitzer and Nex	5	6	4

Playoff schedule follows:

Tomorrow—Boosters vs. Pitzer and Nex at Beacon Hill. Saturday—Eagles vs. Navy at Colville Roard. Aug. 15—Navy vs. Eagles at Beacon Hill. All games will commence at 6.15.

Princess Nancy Scores Third Straight Race Win

VANCOUVER (CP)—Princess Nancy, an American-bred three-year-old filly, scored her third consecutive win at Exhibition Park Thursday with a handy length-and-a-half victory in the $1,500 Goodwood Derby at a mile and 70 yards.

Jockey Henry Moreno moved with Princess Nancy at the quarter pole and held off the stretch challenge of Alawatch, a 22 to 1 shot. Princess Nancy paid $9.90, $5.25 and $4.20, Alawatch $19.70 and $11.20 and Scram On $5.75. The favored Hilimpo was eighth.

Whaley, Bell-Irving Gain Finals In Seniors' Golf

Ralph Whaley, Seattle, and Dick Bell-Irving, Vancouver, will meet over 18 holes tomorrow morning at the Victoria Club for the grand championship of the 27th annual Seniors' Northwest Golf Association tournament. They will tee off at 10.

In today's semifinals Whaley, four times holder of the title, defeated defending champion Gerry McManama, Seattle, 4 and 3, while Bell-Irving eliminated E. N. Eisenhower, Tacoma, 1 up.

Whaley took the lead over McManama at the third hole with a bogey five and was never headed. He went 2 up at the fourth with a par five and won the fifth when McManama was out of bounds. The defending champion reduced the margin with a win at the sixth when Whaley hooked his tee shot into the bushes and had an unplayable lie. Whaley won the seventh to go 3 up again, but McManama dropped an eight-foot putt to win the eighth and be only 2 down. Whaley's par three won the ninth leaving him 3 up at the turn.

Whaley won both the 10th and 11th holes with par fours to gain a five-hole lead. McManama got a hole back at the 12th but the 13th and 14th were halved end the match.

CLOSE STRUGGLE

Bell-Irving staged a great comeback on the back nine to win his match. After Eisenhower had taken the first two holes and held his lead through the ninth, Bell-Irving rallied to square matters and take the lead for the first time on the 15th hole. The 16th was halved with Eisenhower winning the 17th to square matters.

On the 18th Bell-Irving was on the green with his second while Eisenhower was over and chipped short while the Vancouver veteran got down with two putts to win the hole and the match.

At the annual meeting of the association held Wednesday, D. R. Munro, Portland, was elected president. J. W. Ruggles, Victoria, was named first vice-president and F. C. Neal, Tacoma, second vice. A. V. Macan, Victoria, was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Cut Milk Import As Local Farms Increase Supply

There are only 600 gallons of milk per day being shipped here from Vancouver owing to the increased supply of milk from dairy farms in this area, according to the quarterly report submitted to the union board of health by W. E. Farmer Sr., milk inspector.

Mr. Farmer also reported there were at present only six dairies engaged in production of preferred raw milk, compared with 19 in 1940. He said 17 dairymen were retailing raw milk in the city, while 300 were shipping milk to the pasteurizing plants.

During the months of April, May and June of this year, 294 samples of milk were collected and tested for bacterial content, butterfat and resazurin reduction time. There were 173 dairies inspected and 10 milk cans condemned as being unfit for dairy purposes.

In co-operation with the provincial livestock branch, an inspection is made of dairy premises and equipment when milk from dairy farms shows poor quality or a high bacteria count.

Mr. Farmer said the majority of dairy farmers welcomed the guidance given by his department in all matters relating to dairy sanitation, equipment and methods.

HAVE BUSY TIME HERE—Sixteen Toronto High School boys were in Victoria Wednesday and today, crowding into 22 hours all the things which take average tourists anywhere from three days to a week to see. Visit of the boys here was part of western Canada tour made on travel scholarships awarded by the Toronto Board of Education and the T. Eaton Co. Boys are shown signing visitors' book at tourist information bureal in Eaton's Victoria store.

Ald. Williams To Retire After Record City Service

With an all-time Victoria record of 14 consecutive years' service on City Council, Acting Mayor Ed. Williams will retire from city politics at the end of this year.

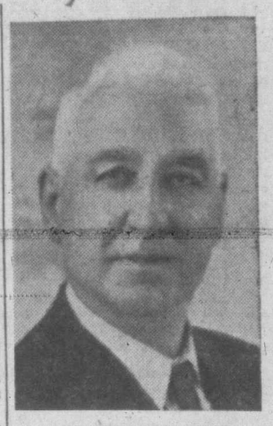
Ald. Williams said today he finally had made up his mind to retire. His record of service will beat by two years the previous record of 12 consecutive years' service. He has held the position of acting mayor for the past four years.

"My only reason for retiring is that I consider I've done my bit and I would like to make way for some other business man to take my place.

"I was elected on a ticket of new blood and I still believe that a blood transfusion once in a while is good . . . if the blood is a good type, of course."

He said he had enjoyed his time on the council. "Get into a fight, get out of it and get into another one. That is the only way you can accomplish anything, anyway," he said today as he looked back over the years.

The alderman hopes to get in a little traveling following his retirement. His present ambition is to make a trip to Honolulu, but he also hopes to make another journey back to the British Isles where, he said, "I had such a wonderful time last year."



ALD. ED. WILLIAMS

When he first was elected, Ald. Williams headed the poll. He started on the council as chairman of the relief committee and today heads the finance committeee.

Hundreds To Aid In Safety Drive

Hundreds of trained observers will be out on the traffic lanes when the Greater Victoria Traffic and Safety Council begins its membership and public education campaign Aug. 22, according to council officials.

With the intention of making Victoria the safest city in North America, the observers will note instances of courtesy and consideration by members of the driving fraternity, in addition to checking on traffic violations.

The drive is aimed particularly at road hogs, traffic light jumpers, "Sunday" drivers and those who weave in the traffic lanes, according to one official.

Every motorist in the city will be asked to sign a pledge endorsing the council's policies, and each will be asked to pay $1 for his membership in the council. With his membership, he will get a sticker for his car.

Bereaved Mother Against Proposal To Remove Light

Protest against a proposal to remove the stop and go signal light at Oak Bay Avenue and Richmond Road has been received by the city from Mrs. Celia M. Lazaruk, 1729 Oak Bay Avenue, whose three-year-old son was killed in a traffic accident at that same corner early this year.

Proposal to remove the light was made by Ernest D. Todd, 508 Island Road, who suggested installation of a flashing warning signal instead, but Mrs. Lazaruk protested that accidents occurred at the corner even when there were the stop signs on Richmond prior to installation of the light.

She suggested addition of a bell to the present light, or road signs indicating the presence of the stop light ahead.

In provincial police court Wednesday afternoon Magistrate A. I. Thomas levied a fine of $50 and $3 costs against motorist Lewis D. Heppenstall, Duncan. Accused pleaded guilty to exceeding the new 50-mile-an-hour speed limit on the Island Highway near Langford. William H. Russell, 58 Sims Avenue, was fined $10 and $3 costs for crossing over a white line on the highway.

Trial of Robert A. Rathsburg, 2647 Anscomb Place, of a charge of dangerous driving, will start in city police court next Wednesday. Today in the court David G. Sloan entered a plea of not guilty for Rathsburg. Charge arose following a crash on Menzies and Superior Streets on the night of July 28 in which three persons were sent to hospital and $1,200 worth of damage done to the two cars.

Mayor, Premier Praise Navy Here

A desire for even better relations between the citizens of Victoria and members of the Royal Canadian Navy based here was expressed by Mayor Percy George at a civic luncheon held in the Empress Hotel Wednesday in observance of Navy Week.

Both Mayor George and Premier Byron Johnson spoke warmly of the good relations here between civilians and naval service personnel.

Among naval and government officials present at the luncheon were Rear-Admiral H. G. DeWolf, flag officer Pacific coast; Commodore J. C. I. Edwards, commanding officer, H.M.C.S. Naden; Capt. C. Kingsley, commanding officer, H.M.C. Dockyard and acting chief of staff; commanding and senior officers of ships and establishments at the Esquimalt naval base, Premier Johnson, Education Minister W. T. Straith, Mrs. Nancy Hodges, M.L.A., Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V.C., M.P., and members of the City Council.

Would Protect Canadian Florists

William A. Gunn of Toronto, public relations counsel to the United Florists of Canada, who is visiting Victoria, said today Canadian flower growers should be protected from U.S. imports.

"We believe that Canad's interests can be best served by following importation methods of the United States," he said, "which do not permit goods coming into the country unless there is a real need for them."

Mr. Gunn was of the opinion that wherever possible flowers should by supplied by Canadian growers until such time as American purchases equal those of Canada. He added that Canada was in need of dumping protection. He pointed out that the United States had protected itself against the danger of dumping.

Stating that British Columbia florists were finding a good market in Ontario, Mr. Gunn said he would like to see a considerable reduction in air cargo rates, which, he felt, would increase the imports of flowers to eastern markets.

Mrs. C. Anderson, 547 Burnside Road, reported to city police that $30 was stolen from the house Wednesday afternoon. Juveniles are suspected.

City's Reputation In East In Hands Of Toronto Boys

Hundreds of words about Victoria were jotted down in 16 notebooks yesterday afternoon and this morning. What those words say will probably influence the attitude of Eastern Canada toward this city in years to come.

The note takers are 16 Toronto high school boys, winners of summer travel scholarships provided by the Toronto Board of Education and the T. Eaton Co.

The boys are making a tour of Canada from Winnipeg west. When the boys return to school in September, they will be asked to relate their experiences and impressions to students in their own and other schools. So, the picture the boys have of Victoria will be passed along to a good number of others.

The travelers arrived in Victoria Wednesday afternoon and left today. They left the impression of being regular fellows, having boundless enthusiasm, a prankish sense of humor, and a keen curiosity about all things foreign to the east.

The boys obviously are enjoying their trip.

WONDERFUL COUNTRY

"The country is wonderful and so are the people," Walter Stanewicz, one of the senior members of the party, declared. "Everyone has been swell to us."

The tour has been well cared for, too well, in fact, some of the boys say.

"Everywhere we go there are four and five course meals, and we don't have a chance to work them off," John Bond complained. "Boy, are we full."

This being their first trip west, the lads are naturally interested in scenery. And to 'teen age boys, it appears, scenery includes girls.

B.C. girls will be happy to know that the easterners think well of them.

"They're just as pretty as the girls back home, in fact some of them I've seen are even prettier," one of the boys remarked. He asked that his name not be attached to this statement because "my steady might get to hear about it and then I'd be in hot water."

DISLIKED SALT WATER

A big attraction to the boys in Victoria was the Crystal Garden pool. They spent nearly an hour there Wednesday after arriving here with a dislike for salt water.

Apparently the boys went swimming at White Cliff, near Vancouver, and swallowed too much ocean. Used to swimming in fresh water where it is quite all right to swallow, the boys said they nearly choked.

"Your ocean gave me the shakes and shivers," Doug Richardson declared.

After their dip in the Crystal the boys had a different opinion, however. This is great, they chorused.

Measles Cause Of Most Absenteeism In This Area's Schools

Measles caused most of the absenteeism in Greater Victoria schools during the second quarter of this year, according to the school health and nursing services report made by Dr. C. Elizabeth Mahaffy, assistant medical health officer.

Dr. Mahaffy also reported a pre-school and baby clinic for the areas served by Bank Street, George Jay and Oaklands Schools was started in the month of June at Royal Jubilee Hospital. At this time all pre-school children of the area received their medical examinations there. A new baby clinic will be opened Sept. 12.

During June, 426 pre-school examination being made in the school where that particular child will attend in September. Prior to this year, all pre-school examinations were conducted at 750 Pandora Avenue, but it was felt the child and parent should become acquainted with the public health nurse and the health room at the school.

Dr. Mahaffy offered the criticism to the plan that no notice was given prospective pupils as to the days and times for the appointments, but reported that a small notation, attached to the school notice, would be given each parent next year showing the date and place of the examination and the telephone number of the health centre.

Higher Court Trial On Dynamite Charge; Driver Sentenced

Trial in higher court was elected by Maurice Fraser, 30, of Vancouver, when he reappeared in city police court today on the charge of unlawful possession of a quantity of dynamite last Saturday morning.

David G. Sloan is his defence counsel and told Claude L. Harrison he would be ready to go ahead with the preliminary hearing next Tuesday.

He was arrested by Constables Lyle Somers and Arthur Newsome.

A 14-day jail sentence and a one-year driver's license suspension was imposed against Joseph Brown, 258 Beechwood Avenue, by Magistrate A. I. Thomas. Brown pleaded guilty to a charge of being intoxicated while in control of the car in which Fraser was a passenger. Arthur P. Dawe appeared as his counsel.

"I frown greatly on driving charges of this nature," said the magistrate.

Objective Set

Quota for this year's Greater Victoria Community Chest campaign was set by directors of the organization Wednesday at $139,000.

The campaign will open Oct. 3 and will run for three weeks.

Colorful Drill Movements In Navy's Sunset Ceremony

Colorful precision drill movements and firing of guns were witnessed by several hundred citizens and tourists in front of the Parliament Buildings Wednesday evening as units of the Royal Canadian Navy carried out a sunset ceremony as part of the Navy Week program.

The ceremony, which will be repeated tonight at 8, weather permitting, consised of the band countermarching through the ranks of the guard and vice-versa, after which the two units lined up facing each other.

The guard then turned toward the flag staff as the band moved off at the slow march, countermarched, and swung into quick marching.

FIRE VOLLEYS

Meanwhile, crews of two 112-pound field guns trained the guns over the harbor and stood by as the guard fired three blank volleys, "feu de joie," and the band played O, Canada and the evening hymn. Then, as the band played an orchestrated version of the bugle call, "Sunset," the White Ensign was lowered. The guard presented arms during the lowering of the ensign.

When the flag reached the ground, two blank rounds were fired from the 12- pounders and the guard and band moved off down Belleville Street, followed by the gun crews, who had placed the wheels on the limbers, hooked limbers to the guns and rigged the drag-ropes for marching as soon as the rounds were fired.

Aluminum Company Asks Water Rights

Formal application for water rights on the Nechako and Chilco Rivers systems has been made to the province by the Aluminum Co. of Canada, which plans a $300,000,000 to $500,000,000 aluminum and hydro-electric plant on one of them.

Announcement of the application was made by R. C. Farrow, water controller, who said public hearings will be held next month on the question.

It is expected several farmers in the Nechako area will protest the application as it would mean flooding of their lands.

The salmon fishing industry may oppose the application in so far as the Chilco system is concerned.

Three Tenders On Northern Road Work

Lowest of three tenders on reconstruction of 5.05 miles of the Prince Rupert to Galloway Rapids road was submitted by Wood, Parr McClay & Co., Vancouver. Amount was $278,563.

Other bids: Marwell Construction Co. Ltd., $337,625, and Campbell-Bennett Ltd., $358,115.

The road is part of the northern trans-provincial highway.

Saanich Uses City Facilities To Dispose Of Garbage

Following the order to stop dumping of garbage by the creek between Maltby and Prospect Lakes by Saanich Council Monday night, the garbage is again being disposed of at the city garbage wharf.

The "cease-dumping" order came following complaints of residents of the area, fearing health dangers, lodged with the council.

The dumping was ordered when the council objected to paying increased fees to the city for disposal. Cost went from 35 cents a cubic yard to 40 and then 55 cents.

The city dumping will continue until council can decide a spot, if any, where garbage can be dumped without causing alarm to residents. It is probable the city service will have to be utilized for the rest of the year.

Council had decided to put a plebiscite to the voters at the December elections, asking them if they favor paying the increased fee for the city service.

Health and sanitary officials of the municipality approved the dumping by the creek and considered it would be safe if properly covered and other laid-down rules followed.

Steals Camera

When a man left the Film Shop, 1107 Douglas Street, Wednesday evening, a camera worth $42 went with him, city police were advised. Theft was discovered after the man, who had been standing by the cameras, left the store and ran south on Douglas and east on Fort Street. Several customers saw him.

HUNDREDS SEE CEREMONY—While hundreds of Navy Week visitors to H.M.C.S. Naden looked on Wednesday, King Neptune and Queen Amphritite held court and carried out the ancient tradition of the sea, the "Crossing the Line" ceremony. Above, King Neptune's "police" drag another victim before the court for a "shave and a ducking in the barber's chair." CPO. Arnold Parkinson (with trident in chair) personified King Neptune, while PO. "Sam" Shaw (bending over King Neptune) was Queen Amphritite.—(R.C.N. Photo)

PLAZA THEATRE

Beautiful scenery, fast action and scenes of the tribal customs never before depicted on the screen form the basis of "Daughter of the West," Film Classics Cinecolor spectacle starting today at the Plaza Theatre.

Co-starring Martha Vickers, Philip Reed and Donald Woods, the picture tells of the struggle of the Navajos for subsistence and independence and of a plot by white men to loot them of copper-bearing lands.

OAK BAY THEATRE

The homicide average in Humphrey Bogart pictures is higher, perhaps, than in any other star's productions. Six undesirables meet a timely end in Warners' "The Big Sleep," a Howard Hawks production, the Oak Bay Theatre's new film which co-stars Lauren Bacall. Only one of them is accounted for by Bogart himself in his role as a tough but honest private detective.

ATLAS THEATRE

The big news of M-G-M's exhilarating new Technicolor musical, "The Barkleys of Broadway," now on view at the Atlas Theatre, is that it reunites the captivating team of Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers whose work together in such pictures as "Flying Down to Rio," "The Gay Divorcee" and "Top Hat" gave the screen some of its finest song-and-dance productions.

LEAVE NO MARK

Silk pins, size 16, which sell in half-pound boxes, are fine, smooth and sharp and leave no marks or rust stains on fine fabrics.

Special Orchestral Music In 'Roberta'

One of the outstanding features in Jerome Kern's musical "Roberta," opening at the Starlight Theatre next Monday, are special orchestral arrangements by Lucio Agostini of Toronto. Mr. Agostini emphasizes Kern's fine melodies which keeps the production from beginning to end a gay, tuneful and pleasant presentation.

In "Roberta" the compositions include Jerome Kern's popular and most durable achievements. Heard in this fascinating operetta are "Lovely to Look At," "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes," "The Touch of Your Hand" and "Yesterday."

Betty Phillips and Lynn Jonson play the two leading singing roles in the modern and ever fascinating "Roberta." Tickets are now available at Fletcher's.

ODEON THEATRE

Marjorie Main and Percy Kilbride, considered by many fans to be the finest "down-to-earth" comedy team since the late Marie Dressler and Wallace Beery, are co-starred in Universal-International's "Ma and Pa Kettle," now at the Odeon Theatre.

ROYAL THEATRE

"My Dream Is Yours," a gay new Technicolor musical starring Doris Day, Jack Carson and Lee Bowman, starts today at the Royal Theatre.

Produced and directed by Michael Curtiz for Warner Bros., the new film tells the story of a radio talent huckster, played by Carson, who introduces a sparkling new songbird, Doris Day, on the airwaves.

CAPITOL THEATRE

The phrase "South of St. Louis," during the Civil War corresponded to our World War I phrase, "over the hill." In both Union and Confederate armies, a deserter went "South of St. Louis." This period backgrounds Warner Bros.' exciting technicolor drama, "South of St. Louis," which is now showing at the Capitol Theatre. Joel McCrea, Alexis Smith, Zachary Scott and Dorothy Malone are starred in the thrilling tale of the west.

Waiters Frown On Loose Dress By Men At Dinner

Should improperly dressed tourists be barred from dining-rooms and restaurants?

Some head waiters in Victoria are giving the question considerable thought after receiving complaints that visitors are appearing at meal time scantily clad.

One maitre d'hotel said he would refuse to admit tourists to the dining-room wearing suspenders over their shirts. "I oblige them to wear a coat," he said. "I think that is going too far."

He said, however, he permitted them to wear the open-necked shirt because it had now become a common garment of summer wear.

Another head waiter expressed the opinion that any male who entered a dining-room without a tie "should be thoroughly kicked."

"I use my judgment," he said. "When I see a male wearing a gaudy shirt with sleeves rolled up, suspenders showing and shirt unbuttoned, I put my foot down."

"I know it is argued that there is no reason why a male should not dress lightly for dinner if women are permitted to dress scantily," he added. "But we have become accustomed seeing women with 75 per cent of their clothes off."

Some head waiters felt that males should be forced to wear ties for dinner, but none of them had enforced such a regulation.

It was pointed out that some leading hotels in the United States were forcing their guests to wear tie and coat for dinner.

While some waiters did not like to see males wearing sport shirts at dinner table, they felt that the shirts were often less gaudy than coats worn by some men.

I.W.A. Cools Down On Lumber Operators' Wage Cut Proposal

Talk waned today of wildcat strikes on Vancouver Island by I.W.A. loggers and lumber workers angry over moves by camp operators to cut wages 13 cents an hour.

Roy Whittle, financial secretary of Local 1-118 of the I.W.A. which covers the southern section of the island, said the men have cooled down and he did not think there would be any trouble at least until a conciliation board at present sitting on wage questions had submitted a report on its findings.

The board is meeting in Vancouver. It is expected sittings will conclude tonight or Friday. The union hopes to hear the result early next week.

The I.W.A. loggers are asking for a pay increase of 15 cents an hour, a health insurance and welfare plan paid for by operators, union shop, pay for nine satutory holidays, a 40-hour week from Monday through to Friday and paid vacations.

Counter proposal of the operators was a return to the 1947-48 wage level, which is 13 cents an hour less than the present level of $1.08 an hour as the basic average wage.

If the conciliation board's findings are voted down by the union membership, a strike vote will be taken," Mr. Whittle said.

Visitor Lauds City Policemen

One United States visitor, a former colonel in the Marine Corps, thinks so highly of the city policemen that he has written a letter of praise to Chief of Police John A. McLellan.

He is J. P. Wilcox, colonel U.S.M.C. (ret'd), and writes:

"I have been a frequent visitor to Victoria and have always appreciated the members of your force. I have been around the world more or less with marines and have yet to see any force that can beat yours for efficiency, snappiness and for courtesy."

He notes, however, that he would not like to "get mixed up with them if I were in the wrong." The visitor said that the police were always willing to help one out on slight mistakes or lack of knowledge of local regulations.

"It is always a pleasure to come to Victoria," he concluded.

Show Folk Entertain Veteran Patients

So appreciative were patients at the Veterans' Hospital, Richmond Road, of a professional performance brought to them two weeks ago that Sheila Bejay, manageress of the Rio Theatre, Wednesday, presented another show at the hospital.

The veterans usually have to be content with screen entertainment, and many at today's performance commented on the added enjoyment of seeing vaudeville talent.

Among acts presented on the hospital stage yesterday after noon were a singer who featured Italian street songs, an adagio dancing team, a record pantomime, a colored tap dancer and a puppet show.

The troupe, which is currently at the Rio Theatre, gave their services voluntarily in order to entertain the confined veterans.

City police would like to find the youngster who fired a BB pellet at a B.C. Electric bus Wednesday afternoon and broke a window. Incident occurred on Pandora Avenue as the bus bearing passengers was passing Stadacona Park at 4.

Cloudy Tonight And Friday; No Warm Spell In Sight

It may be fine for the lawns and gardens and will save numerous Victorians from using the sprinkler or hose tonight, but it is not something that Victorians will greet warmly especially during the tourist season as the weather here is considered by most to be just perfect. Point in question is this morning's rainfall here.

Threatening skies have persisted most of the week, but the climax came early this morning when residents got up to find a wet world in front of them.

The official weather forecast for Victoria, issued by the weather office at Sea Island and relayed to the Gonzales Meteorological Station reads: Cloudy with showers today; cloudy tonight and Friday with occasional sunny intervals Friday afternoon. Light winds, little change in temperature.

William Burton, superintendent at Gonzales Heights, stated the average rainfall here in August was .63 inch. Over half of this quota had been reached today, however, he said, as the total since the first of the month was .32 inch.

Drizzle, which continued almost all morning, had stopped at noon but overcast skies appear to promise more rain for the area before the day is over.

115,450 Living In Greater Victoria

Greater Victoria now has an estimated population of 115,450, according to a quarterly report submitted by Dr. J. L. Gayton, medical health officer.

Of this total, 61,400 persons live in Victoria, 6,750 in Esquimalt, 12,000 in Oak Bay, 26,000 in Saanich and 9,300 in unorganized territory.

Murney Brenton, 414 Edwards Street, entered a plea of not guilty to a charge of careless driving and was remanded to Monday for trial in city police court today. Charge followed a collision at Blanshard and Courtney Streets July 29. Brenton's counsel is W. Berkeley Monteith.

Rangers' Picnic Sunday

The Luxton acres of the South Vancouver Island Rangers will be the scene of mass activity Sunday when the annual picnic will be held. Program will start at 10 in the morning and continue through the day. A fine sports program has been arranged. Clubhouse grounds are located off the Happy Valley Road.

Tuesday was set for the trial date of Harold Whims, 550 Johnson Street, today in city police court when he pleaded not guilty to a charge of dangerous driving on Douglas Street on Aug. 7. He pleaded guilty to having no driver's license and was fined $10 by Magistrate A. I. Thomas.

Seven stitches were required to close a leg cut sustained by A. B. Williams, a professional tap dancer nicknamed "Racehorse," in an unusual accident Wednesday afternoon in the city. A pop bottle fell out of a full case of empties on the Old English Beverage Co. truck driven by Laurie Westendale. The truck ran over it and a fragment of the bottle flew out and struck Williams in the leg. The injured man was treated at Jubilee Hospital.

LADS SEE GUNS—Among the thousands of visitors who took advantage of Navy Week "open house" in the ships and establishments Wednesday were these three Victoria boys. Enjoying themselves thoroughly in the six-inch gun turret, they listened to every word of their guide, PO. Percy Boyd of Victoria. Left to right, the boys are: Les Karagianis of 907 Arcadia Street; Garry Gilbert, 702 Lampson, and Jack Robbie of 1143 Colville Road.—(R.C.N. Photo)

Guards Answer Questions Of Government House Visitors

Uniformed commissionaires today went on duty in the grounds of Government House to answer questions of curious visitors and tourists and to stop vandalism, which has occurred in minor degree in the past.

Posting of two commissionaires at the residence of Lieutenant-Governor Charles A. Banks and Mrs. Banks was ordered by the provincial government, which also announced a new set of regulations governing visitors to the grounds.

The regulations limit visiting hours and ban sightseeing buses, taxis and horse-drawn tallyhos from the driveway into Government House.

Vehicles may park outside the gates and the occupants may walk through the grounds.

A government spokesman said all licensed taxi and sightseeing companies were being notified of the regulations.

It was claimed a few buses were being driven around the circular driveway leading to the governor's residence to give sightseers a view of the gardens and the home of the King's representative.

Sightseeing men denied this, saying the driveway was not wide enough for the big vehicles.

However, the number of visitors to the grounds on foot will not be limited and the commissionaires have been "briefed" on history and background of Government House to satisfy the curious.

One of them is stationed at the front steps of the residence and the other has a roving commission, to walk the garden paths and see that flower beds are not disturbed.

The gardens will be open in the summer time, June 1 to Sept. 30, from 9 in the morning to 8 in the evening, and in the winter from Oct. 1 to May 31 from 9 in the morning to sundown.

The government hopes the presence of the commissionaires will act as a restraint on some tourists who in the past have wandered into the residence.

Traditional Ceremony At Naval College Graduation

Twenty-one senior navy cadets doffed their shoulder cords in the traditional "lanyard ceremony" at Royal Roads today and emerged full-fledged midshipmen.

The graduation ceremonies, attended by top west coast naval chiefs, revived the 40-year-old "midshipmen's parade" established at the original Royal Canadian Naval College in 1910.

The cadets wound up their three months' specialized training Wednesday, returning aboard H.M.C.S. Ontario, a 10,000-ton cruiser, after a 30-day cruise in northern waters.

Rear-Admiral H. G. DeWolf, flag officer Pacific coast, inspected the cadets, who represented seven of Canada's provinces.

Graduates: Allison H. Bell, Amherst, N.S.; Thomas Orr, Halifax; Andre Bender, Montreal; Jean Gagnon, Quebec City; Vivian Arnould, Ottawa; Willoughby Jones, Toronto; Richmond Kirby, London, Ont.; William Leslie, Rockwood, Ont.; James McDonough, Mimico, Ont.; Stanley Szach, Hamilton; Malcolm Wilson, Sarnia, Ont.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Ginger Rogers sued Wednesday to divorce John Calvin Briggs II, an actor, whom she said was "everything I've ever dreamed of" when she married him in 1943.

Her complaint was brief. She alleged he treated her cruelly and caused her "grievous mental suffering." The actress, 37, said she and Briggs, 29, separated last July 30.

The R.C.A.F. said nothing will be touched at the scene pending investigation by U.S. authorities.

The aircraft spun to the ground from a formation of seven flying from Fairbanks, Alaska, to Whitehore, Wednesday. It burned following the crash.

Says Change Needed In Administration

Administrative changes at City Hall definitely are needed, according to Acting Mayor Ed Williams, who said today he would like to see appointment of some form of city administrator, followed by a reduction of City Council to a mayor and six aldermen.

The alderman denied he was against the idea of a city manager, but expressed his doubts as to the feasibility of such a proposal. "The only thing I have against the city manager scheme is that it puts too much power in the hands of one man," he said. He also questioned whether Canada had available men who were sufficiently trained to handle such a job.

Another point: "If it is half as good as some people say it is, I can't understand why other cities across Canada haven't adopted it."

So far as Ald. Williams is concerned, he would like to see appointment of a city administrator, or failing that, a public referendum on the city manager scheme.

Australia Wants To Exchange Animals

SYDNEY (UP) — Australia, which boasts well-mannered little Koala bears that like to be petted, was looking today for some Canadian grizzlies that don't.

To add variety to its Taronga Park zoo, the zoo trust in Sydney has set its sights on some big, lumbering, vicious-looking grizzly bears. It also wanted someone to throw in three moose, preferably two females and a male.

The trust promised to send Australian animals in return.

(In Ottawa wild life service officials said Canada would be willing to work on some sort of exchange but several possible snags, including the high cost of transporting the animals.)

Concerned By Delay On New Traffic Plan

Delay over implementation of the proposed traffic control system for the Fountain intersection today was expressed by the city's transportation committee.

The committee is relaying its opinion to the proper authorities along with the request that, until the scheme is put into effect, there be immediate provision of some system of marking traffic lanes at the intersection.

100-Man Hunt Fails To Find 'Monster Of Gooseville'

GOOSEVILLE, Ill. (UP)—An Illinois conservation supervisor who led 100 men on a hunt for the "monster of Gooseville" said today he was convinced the beast really exists.

The men, armed with shotguns, ranged through the Indian Creek bottomlands Wednesday night and found tracks "at least eight inches long," similar to the pawprints of a bear.

But the hunters caught no sight of the monster itself. Their sweep through the valley netted them two dead raccoons, one dead possum and innumerable live chiggers.

The hunt was led by Henry Gerdes, a state conservation commission supervisor and mayor of nearby Bethalto.

"The bear or whatever it is outsmarted us," he said. "But we found enough evidence to convince me that he actually exists. We're not giving up. We'll be back with more men and hound dogs the next time he's sighted."

Two men who searched the east side of the valley, John Kirsch and R. B. Seegar of Brighton, followed the "bear" tracks for some distance, but lost the trail because of heavy rain and thick underbrush.

One farmer has claimed that the beast killed his young bull. Another said it slaughtered several head of his sheep. Still another said it killed his dog. In all cases, the carcasses were mangled.

Those people who have seen the animal say it is "shaggy and brown and looks like a bear."

3,000 New Cases This Month Boost U.S. Polio To 11,000

NEW YORK (AP)—More than 3,000 new polio cases this month have boosted the total in the United States for this year to more than 11,000.

An Associated Press survey through Aug. 9 showed the number of cases in 1949 was running roughly 4,000 ahead of that for the same date in 1948.

Last year, with a total of 27,680 cases reported, was the second highest on record for polio incidence. The worst year was 1916, when more than 30,000 cases were counted.

Judged solely by case figures, the polio situation looks more alarming than it really is, health authorities said. They said a greater percentage of polio cases are recognized and reported each year, and that many of the added proportion are so mild they would have been diagnosed as a cold in the head a few years ago.

Also, many local health officers reported a slackening off in new case reports.

Actually, the 11,000 cases reported to date represent a ratio of about one victim to every 15,000 persons in the United States.

Not Interested In Unwanted Statue

Despite the kind suggestion of Toronto's Globe and Mail that Victoria be the recipient of the bronze statue of Queen Victoria formerly situated in Dublin, Eire, Acting Mayor Ed Williams does not think Victoria needs another one.

The city, he pointed out, already has a good statue of the queen at the entrance to the Legislative Buildings. He is in favor of bowing out to some of the eastern Canadian cities now applying to the government of Eire for its unwanted statue.

"Give them a break and let them have it," he said. There was one other thing that prompted the acting mayor's decision and that was the cost of getting the statue out to this coast. "It would cost us money and we haven't got it."

OPENING LEAD PLAY IS IMPORTANT HERE

I am not going to try to justify North's bid of six no trump on today's hand. I can only explain that North had been losing all evening and this probably was the last rubber of the evening. He was afraid that West might be void of diamonds, and that the hand was safer at no trump.

After all East had dared to risk a two-diamond bid over his two demand bid. South had shown strength in diamonds by bidding three no trump rather than three in a suit and North felt quite confident that he had either the ace or king of diamonds to justify the three no trump bid.

However, it is the play that we want to discuss today. When West opened the eight of diamonds, what would you play declarer elects to play the three-spot. East, of course, will win the trick with the ace, and now what should he return? If you analyze it, you will find that East should return a club. If South has the ten and a small club, there is no way to defeat the contract. East must attempt to lock the declarer in dummy; also hope that West has three hearts to the queen.

Let us go back to the declarer's angle. Did he make the correct play when he put on the three-spot from dummy? He did not. Do not forget that East overcalled in diamonds and West opened the eight-spot. This combination clearly marks East with the ace and jack of diamonds.

Therefore, the queen should have been played from dummy to trick one. Now, regardless of what East does, the contract will be made. Suppose East goes up with the ace and returns a club. Declarer will win it, go over to the spade king, lead the three of diamonds and finesse the ten spot, discarding the five of hearts on the king of diamonds.

Oak Bay Delegates Named To U.B.C.M.

Oak Bay delegates to the forthcoming Union of B.C. Municipalities were appointed by Reeve Robert A. Wootton at a council meeting Wednesday. They were J. V. Johnson, P. A. Moir, George Murdock, P. A. Gibbs and the reeve himself.

The council referred the request of Margaret J. Clay of Victoria Public Library, asking the municipality to support a resolution endorsing the principle of provincial grants in aid to public libraries, to the delegates to the convention.

Suggested Cougars May Have Attacked Cows In Oak Bay

C. R. Easton of the Eastwood Jersey Farm, is asking for $800 from Oak Bay Municipality for the loss of four purebred Jersey heifers which he claims were attacked by "vicious and unrestrained dogs" on July 28.

In a letter to the council, Mr. Easton said the heifers were in pasture on the Hudson Bay Co. property situated between Gordon Head Road and Finnerty Road. Two of the animals were suffering from such severe wounds, he said, that as an act of mercy were destroyed.

Another animal was found in a dying condition in pasture by Saanich game warden Jones with the help of dogs, he wrote. The fourth heifer had not yet been found, in spite of an intensive search by the game warden.

Councillor George Murdock was of the opinion that cougars had attacked the animals. "There is no proof that they were Oak Bay dogs," he said.

The council referred the matter to the municipality's solicitor. It was pointed out that the municipality was not liable for the loss of cattle by the action of dogs. Some compensation, however, is expected to be made.

195 Complaints Investigated By Sanitary Inspectors

A total of 195 complaints were received and investigated by sanitary inspectors in Victoria during the second quarter of this year, according to the report submitted to the union board of health by Elwood S. Gropp, senior sanitary inspector.

Rodent control work was carried out, bait was laid at all known rat runs, and prompt attention was given to all rat complaints, Mr. Gropp said.

During the quarter, a routine spot check of restaurants, bakeshops, beer parlors and other food establishments was carried out.

Special investigation and sanitary surveys of the beaches was continuing, Mr. Gropp reported, and signs were posted at the beaches at Foul Bay, the foot of St. Charles Street and the foot of Moss Street warning of the pollution of the beach water.

Mr. Gropp also reported progress was being made with respect to the demolition of dilapidated and unsanitary premises condemned by the council.

Sask. Conservatives Ask Reorganization On National Scale

REGINA (CP)—A Dominion-wide reorganization of the Progressive Conservative Party has been called for by the advisory council of the Saskatchewan Progressive Conservatives.

This was disclosed by a council spokesman today following a meeting Wednesday.

The advisory council asked that the National Progressive Conservative Association meet as soon as possible to plan the reorganization and to redefine policy.

The council called for formation of a board of strategy with nation-wide representation which would formulate party policy and election tactics. Purpose of this board would be to ensure that policy has national appeal.

The spokesman said national leader George Drew is expected to attend the October convention in Regina which will select a new provincial leader to replace Rupert Ramsay who resigned last year. The convention also will draft provincial party policy.

To Set Down Policy For Uplands Park

Reeve R. A. Wootton at a meeting of Oak Bay Council Wednesday said a definite policy would be set down to preserve the beauty of Uplands Park.

The council heard Andrew Wright, representing the Estates Ltd. and Uplands Ltd., owners of the greater portion of the park, give his suggestions on how the beauty of the residential park could be preserved.

Asked if it would be practical to have all electrical wiring laid underground, Mr. Wright said the costs of laying cable underground was exorbitant.

"I think everything should be done to have all electric wiring run underground on Beach Drive," he said. "I believe, however, it would be too costly a project to enforce throughout the park.

Brothers Injured

Injuries were sustained by Tony and Leslie Crocker, 3875 Rowland Avenue, this week in an accident on Happy Valley Road when the light truck driven by Leslie failed to make a turn and wound up in collision with a tree. Constable Bud Godfrey reported Tony suffered a broken leg, his brother minor hurts. About $800 damage was done to the truck. Tony Crocker is in Jubilee Hospital.

Babe Zaharias May Appear In Victoria

VANCOUVER (CP) — The hard-hitting housewife of pro golf, Babe Didrickson Zaharias, may be Vancouver-bound next month for a special exhibition show here.

Officials of the British Columbia P.G.A. haven't made up their minds definitely yet, however, and a private backer may be sought for the event.

A former U.S. pro champion, the "Babe" wound up second this week to Georgia's little Louise Suggs in the U.S. National Women's Pro Tourney.

She indicated recently a desire to perform in Portland, Seattle, Victoria and Vancouver.

Yawl Skipper Flat Broke After Sailing Atlantic

NEW YORK (UP)—Sailboat skipper Edward C. Allcard, a 34-year-old British naval architect, said today he was "flat broke" and might have to sell the 29-foot yawl in which he made an 81-day solo voyage across the Atlantic.

Allcard, bachelor son of a London stockbroker, borrowed $5 from a friendly shipyard owner at a New York yacht basin when he docked yesterday after his lonely 5,000-mile trip. He hoped for quick clearance by immigration officials so he can earn enough money by lectures or writing to fulfill a lifelong ambition to see America.

Otherwise, the weatherbeaten skipper said, he'll start refitting his seaworn craft and set sail—alone again—for home, in "three or four weeks."

Allcard said his long trip started more or less as a whim but was also a way to escape the "routine of form-filling in England."

The yawl, "The Temptress," was fitted with a small auxiliary engine, but Allcard said he used it only a few times.

Trailed for days by a pack of 15-foot hungry sharks, he almost fell overboard in a storm when a rigging block fell on his head. He lay on deck unconscious for "I really don't know how long."

Allcard guided his vessel through gale and calm, spending virtually 20 hours a day at the helm and catching only "about three hours" sleep at night. About 1,000 miles off the American coast, the boat sprung a leak and he had to man pumps for weary hours.

13 Perish In Montana Fire

Bodies of 11 of the 13 men who perished in the northwest's worst fire near Helena, Montana, are brought out by helicopter. Twelve of the dead were "smoke-jumpers," especially trained fire fighters of the U.S. Forest Service, who parachuted into inaccessible regions to fight forest fires.—(NEA Telephoto)

Squandered $43,543 In Bank Funds; Gets Year's Sentence

CHICAGO (AP)—A bank teller who pleaded guilty to a charge of squandering $43,543 of bank funds on horse races today was sentenced to prison for a year and a day.

Judge Michael L. Igoe imposed the prison sentence on John Hagenauer, 38, father of two children.

Prosecutors said Hagenauer, employed by the bank more than 20 years, was trapped because he went on a vacation recently. During his absence the bank substituted a mechanical system of bookkeeping for the old pen and ink method and the shortage was quickly discovered.

Police Embarrassed? Well, This Cop Was!

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—"You're going to be embarrassed," one of the youngsters told a highway patrolman. And he was.

Patrolman J. C. Rogers arrested the two occupants of a car on a charge of having no driver's license. They gave him their names as "Scotty and Johnny."

When he told one of them at headquarters to partially disrobe and be searched, well, he hurriedly called for a matron.

He said they turned out to be Anne Stelzriede, of Providence, R.I., a blonde, and Shirley Mae Wills, of Lancaster, Pa. Both 19 years old, they were dressed in sports shirts and slacks. Shirley Mae's hair was combed into a pompadour, and Anne sported a crew haircut.

They were charged with car theft.

British Propose Use Of 'Frogmen' To Get Contraband

LONDON (UP)—British customs authorities today investigated a report that ingenious smugglers, working with divers in New York harbor, have attached packets of diamonds to the hulls of Europe-bound ocean liners.

To combat the wave of jewel robberies and multi-million-dollar smuggling which has swept all Europe since the war, British officials said they plan to use war-trained "frog men" to search hulls for contraband.

A formal naval officer tipped them off to reports that smugglers were attaching parcels of diamonds and narcotics to the hulls by the same methods used to attach "sticky bombs" to enemy ships during the war.

The "frogmen," who use rubber suits and foot-fins, can stay underwater with the aid of oxygen tanks long enough to explore the hulls of liners coming into Britain.

British officials, who said the naval officer's report was "entirely feasible," pointed to the case of the "refitted airplane," which smuggled an estimated $2,000,000 worth of illegal heroin into New York last summer.

The cache of narcotics was so carefully concealed among the controls in the rear of the plane that it was found only by a most unlikely accident.

A mechanic, checking the plane after it landed on Long Island, found a bulge in the fuselage which did not appear in his engineering manual. The narcotics were concealed in an aluminum cache, which had been carefully welded to the plane.

While French authorities were searching incoming air passengers for a trace of the Aga Khan's missing $785,000 worth of jewelry, British officials mounted an all-night guard on the liner Queen Elizabeth.

Officers with special dismantling tools searched the ship from stem to stern, but authorities would not say what they were looking for or who had sent the tip indicating valuable contraband was aboard.

Two Armed Men Sought By Police Along U.S. Border

OSOYOOS, B.C. (CP) — Two armed men are being sought by B.C. Provincial Police and U.S. Immigration patrols through the terrain lying in the southern interior of the province and the border area of Washington state.

The men Wednesday held up a traveling salesman, taking $300 and his car, and are believed to be American cattle rustlers.

Police said the two may be responsible for a Spokane, Wash., car theft Saturday night and that they may have gone back into Washington after holding up Grant Dudley Wednesday.

Provincial police in Penticton, Kelowna, Vernon, Osoyoos, Oliver and Greenwood of the southern interior are alerted and Washington state police have thrown out a general alarm.

Room For Whole Family

Taking a family of six on a vacation with only a modest income is always a problem everywhere. But Lars Georg Swerin, a farm worker in Soederby, Sweden, found the solution. He furnished his tandem bicycle with two front seats and two back seats. Here Swerin, his wife Wiran and their four young children load up for their holiday trip.

Gasoline Thief Caused Airplane Crash In North

PRINCE RUPERT (BUP) A gasoline thief was responsible for the July 29 crash of a Queen Charlotte Airlines seaplane near Prince Rupert, B.C., in which four persons miraculously escaped injury.

A. J. Spilsbury, Q.C.A. general manager, said on completion of his investigations into the crash today that "the crash must have been caused by theft of gasoline from fuel tanks on the nights of July 27 or 28."

Pilot Roy Berryman of Prince Rupert, kept his head and made a forced landing on Digby Island, four miles from here, when both engines of his seven passenger seaplane conked out simultaneously.

Spilsbury said today that investigations revealed the tanks had been fully filled, yet the crash came within minutes of the takeoff on a flight from Prince Rupert to Massett, Queen Charlotte Island.

U.S. Railroads Get Another Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Inter-State Commerce Commission today authorized another general four-per-cent increase in railroad freight rates.

The action was taken in a final ruling on the railroads' application of last fall for a new 13-per-cent increase in rates, requested largely on the basis of higher wages in the rail industry.

On the railroads' plea that they were confronted with an emergency situation in relation to increased operating costs the I.C.C. late in December permitted an interim rate increase of about 5.2 per cent, to be collected while the case was still in hearing.

Today's order provides for roughly an additional four per cent above the interim authorizations.

Brothers In Fight, Must Live Apart

Marius Browers, Pipe Line Road, Saanich, was bound over in the sum of $200 to be of good behaviour for one year, when he pleaded guilty in Saanich court today to a charge of assault.

He was charged with occasioning his bearded brother, Henri, actual bodily harm. According to Henri, Marius went after him with a knife and cut him slightly on the left hand.

On the suggestion of C. L. Harrison, city prosecutor, Magistrate A. I. Thomas ordered that the two, now living together, in future live apart. Mr. Harrison said he believed that might help to solve the situation.
